TAYLOR EDUCATION BUILDING (1)  The Taylor Education Building was built in the 1930s and is home to the College of Education.

BUELL ARMORY AND BARKER HALL (28)  The Gillis Building was built in 1908 and is the second oldest building on campus. It is home to the Graduate School, Center for the Study of the New South, College of Education, graduate library, faculty offices and the offices of administration. It is named for Connecticut-born Ezra Gillis, UK’s second president.

Gillis Building (23)  The Gillis Building was built in 1889 and is the third oldest building on campus. It is home to the College of Education. It is named for Connecticut-born Ezra Gillis, UK’s second president.

Memorial Hall (49)  Memorial Hall was built in 1929 to honor Kentuckians who died in World War I. The steeple is part of UK’s logo and is 135 feet tall. It is home to the Kastle Hall, the University Theatre, the UK School of Theatre and Dance, and the University Department of Communications. Memorial Hall was designed by John F. Van Vleck of New York.

BARKER HALL (28)  Barker Hall is named in honor of the College of Engineering’s first dean, Joseph F. Barker. It was built in 1939 and is home to the College of Engineering and College of Technology. Barker Hall is also home to the Engineering Computing Services, the Student Commons Area, classrooms and faculty offices.

Memorial Hall and Barker Hall are connected by a covered walkway that allows students to safely cross the street.

The Main Building was built in 1882 and is UK’s oldest building. In May 2001, the building was heavily damaged by fire. Fortunately, no one was injured and the fire was extinguished in time to save the building. It houses the offices of admissions and registrar, the offices of the vice president for academic affairs, the offices of the provost, the offices of the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Law, the Graduate School, and the offices of the president. It is named for William Letcher Funkhouser, Jr., a longtime friend of the university.

The Funkhouser Building is the one-stop shop for student services, with offices for undergraduate admissions, registered nurses, housing, student billing, financial aid and scholarships. It also houses yaşam, as well as other design studios and offices of the Department of Nutrition and Food Sciences.

Complete in 1968, the Funkhouser Building originally served as a student center but now houses the offices of undergraduate admissions, registration, housing, student financial aid, and scholarships. It also houses a number of design studios and offices of the Department of Nutrition and Food Sciences.

The Gillis Building was built in 1889 and is the second oldest building on campus. It is home to the Graduate School, Center for the Study of the New South, College of Education, graduate library, faculty offices and the offices of administration. It is named for Connecticut-born Ezra Gillis, UK’s second president.

Memorial Hall was built in 1929 to honor Kentuckians who died in World War I. The steeple is part of UK’s logo and is 135 feet tall. It is home to the Kastle Hall, the University Theatre, the UK School of Theatre and Dance, and the University Department of Communications. Memorial Hall was designed by John F. Van Vleck of New York.

The Lemon Tree is a reservation-only restaurant run by hospitality students. It is also home to two restaurants: Fusion and the Lemon Tree.

Cranmer Building (108)  The Cranmer Building is the focal point for advanced manufacturing research and instruction activities in the College of Engineering. The offices and research facilities for the Lean Systems unit of the Institute of Research for Technology Development (IR4TD) and the Institute for Sustainable Manufacturing (ISM) are found in this building.

Rose Street and Huguelet Drive. Look down Rose Street – in front of you is the Quad. The Quad is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.

Memorial Hall was built in 1929 to honor Kentuckians who died in World War I. The steeple is part of UK’s logo and is 135 feet tall. It is home to the Kastle Hall, the University Theatre, the UK School of Theatre and Dance, and the University Department of Communications. Memorial Hall was designed by John F. Van Vleck of New York.

Kastle Hall is home to the College of Arts and Sciences and includes faculty offices and classrooms.

The Quad is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.

Donovan Hall (72)  Donovan Hall is the all-female residence hall on Central Campus and is popular due to its spacious rooms. It is also home to the University of Kentucky Student Union, which is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.

Memorial Hall was built in 1929 to honor Kentuckians who died in World War I. The steeple is part of UK’s logo and is 135 feet tall. It is home to the Kastle Hall, the University Theatre, the UK School of Theatre and Dance, and the University Department of Communications. Memorial Hall was designed by John F. Van Vleck of New York.

The Lemon Tree is a reservation-only restaurant run by hospitality students. It is also home to two restaurants: Fusion and the Lemon Tree.

Cranmer Building (108)  The Cranmer Building is the focal point for advanced manufacturing research and instruction activities in the College of Engineering. The offices and research facilities for the Lean Systems unit of the Institute of Research for Technology Development (IR4TD) and the Institute for Sustainable Manufacturing (ISM) are found in this building.

Rose Street and Huguelet Drive. Look down Rose Street – in front of you is the Quad. The Quad is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.

Memorial Hall was built in 1929 to honor Kentuckians who died in World War I. The steeple is part of UK’s logo and is 135 feet tall. It is home to the Kastle Hall, the University Theatre, the UK School of Theatre and Dance, and the University Department of Communications. Memorial Hall was designed by John F. Van Vleck of New York.

Kastle Hall is home to the College of Arts and Sciences and includes faculty offices and classrooms.

The Quad is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.

Donovan Hall (72)  Donovan Hall is the all-female residence hall on Central Campus and is popular due to its spacious rooms. It is also home to the University of Kentucky Student Union, which is a popular area for students to congregate and socialize.
HAGGIN HALL (111)
This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

NEW CENTRAL HALL
Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

CAMPUS RESIDENCES
South Campus is our largest residence-hall neighborhood and home to the Kirwan-Blanding Complex.

LANCASTER AQUATIC CENTER (212)
Students can also attend aerobics classes or work out with a personal trainer at the Lancaster Aquatic Center.

PATTERSON STATUE
This bronze statue, weighing approximately 1,600 pounds, honors James Kennedy Patterson, who served as the eleventh president of the University of Kentucky.

HAGGIN HALL
The Haggan Hall, below the large sculpture called Memories Ceramics. The center is part of the College of Fine Arts.

FINE ARTS BUILDING
QUIGON THEATER (32)
The Quigon Theater was renovated in 2012.

MEMORIAL COURT
The Memorial Court is a large open area surrounded by Fine Arts buildings on the upper level of the Quigon Theater.

Tocoma is the name of the community/campus that once was home to Native Americans.

WAYNE E. BOONE STATUE
The Boone Center is a gathering place for faculty and staff and hosts several events.

THE JOSEPH NICHOLS HOTEL AND RESTAURANT BUILDING (412)
Many students enjoy the lively atmosphere of the restaurant.

HAGGIN HALL (111)
This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

NEW CENTRAL HALL
Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

CAMPUS RESIDENCES
South Campus is our largest residence-hall neighborhood and home to the Kirwan-Blanding Complex.

LANCASTER AQUATIC CENTER (212)
Students can also attend aerobics classes or work out with a personal trainer at the Lancaster Aquatic Center.

PATTERSON STATUE
This bronze statue, weighing approximately 1,600 pounds, honors James Kennedy Patterson, who served as the eleventh president of the University of Kentucky.

HAGGIN HALL
The Haggan Hall, below the large sculpture called Memories Ceramics. The center is part of the College of Fine Arts.

FINE ARTS BUILDING
QUIGON THEATER (32)
The Quigon Theater was renovated in 2012.

MEMORIAL COURT
The Memorial Court is a large open area surrounded by Fine Arts buildings on the upper level of the Quigon Theater.

Tocoma is the name of the community/campus that once was home to Native Americans.

WAYNE E. BOONE STATUE
The Boone Center is a gathering place for faculty and staff and hosts several events.

THE JOSEPH NICHOLS HOTEL AND RESTAURANT BUILDING (412)
Many students enjoy the lively atmosphere of the restaurant.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.

This is the all-male residence hall on Central Campus.

Home to UK’s Honors Living Learning Community.