

Amsterdam

One of the best ways to become familiar with Amsterdam is on a canal ride.

Amsterdam at night.

The Rijks museums in Amsterdam is filled with Dutch masters.

Banquet at the Crossbowmen's Guild by van der Heist

The Syndics
by Rembrandt

Night Watch
by Rembrandt

The Milkmaid by Johannes Vermeer

This self-portrait by David Bailly is a typical Dutch allegorical still-life suggesting that beauty in life is fleeting.

Bubbles burst, flowers fade, etc.

In the Month of July
by Paul Gabriel

Winter landscape with Ice Skaters by Hendrick Avercamp

The Merry Fiddler by Gerard van Honthorst

The other major museum in Amsterdam is the van Gogh museum that we did not have time to visit.

However, we were treated to numerous van Gogh paintings at the Rijks and also at the Orsay museum in Paris.

Self-portrait by Vincent van Gogh

Self-Portrait by
Vincent van Gogh

Thatched Cottages
at Cordeville by
Vincent van Gogh

Van Gogh's room at Arles by Vincent
van Gogh

The Doctor Paul Gachet
by Vincent van Gogh

The Church at Auvers
by Vincent van Gogh

The Starry Night
over the Rhône by Vincent van Gogh

