No. 6

Here's the first Graduate Student Newsletter for this academic year. Welcome to all new students and welcome back to the rest of you. I hope you had a productive and enjoyable summer and look forward to working with you.

I especially encourage all of you, new and returning, to attend the Graduate Student Reception on Wednesday, September 20 at 5:00 p.m. at the UK Faculty Club on Rose Street. By now you should have received your invitation in the mail, but if you did not, please come anyway. (We probably did not have your current address.)

If you have not already done so this semester, please let Esther Edwards, the Graduate Student Secretary, know your current address. You can stop by her office in the reception area of the College Dean's Office on the first floor of the Grehan Building or call her. It is very important that we have your current address and phone number!

If you have not yet joined the rejuvenated College of Communications Graduate Student Association, please do so as soon as possible. M.A. student Veronica Gordon is doing an excellent job of organizing the group, which can be a positive voice for graduate students in our program. Your input, positive or negative, is always valued, and the GSA is an effective way of working with other students to improve the program. The first meeting was in September. The Association meets every Friday at 3:00 p.m. at the University Club. The next meeting will be Friday, September 15th.

I've tried to pack this Newsletter with as much useful information as possible, but suggestions and news items are needed. Just jot them down and send them to me.

By the way, if you're a new student (other than a Teaching Assistant), you have a mailbox near the elevator on the ground floor. (All TAs have mailboxes in their respective department or school.) Returning students have mailboxes, too, of course, in the same location. Please be sure to check your box as often as possible since we put all non confidential information such as class schedules, Newsletters, announcements, etc. in the box.

Please feel free to visit my office any time you need information or have problems. I'm here to help!

NEWS

New Faculty

Dr. Edward C. Scheiner, an Assistant Professor in the School of Journalism, has joined the Graduate Faculty as an Associate member. Dr. Scheiner received his B.S. in 1978 and his M.A. in 1979 from Syracuse University. He earned a Ph.D. in Mass Communications from Michigan State University in 1987. His teaching and research areas include:

Visual communication in mass media, psychological and behavioral responses to visual stimuli, law, ethics and history of visuals used in mass media, particularly deceptive use of visuals, history and uses of military and government photography, and visual design of mass media.

Welcome Ed!
