Tremendous music

I have one word—what?  What a festival!  This year’s Switchgrass Blues and Arts Festival was probably the best ever.

On the suggestion of Damon Wherry, our sound technician, the festival was held in the middle of the street.  This plan seemed to be the best solution, so they went for it.  They were worried that their audience might not be satisfied.

But they built it!  That was one of the most amazing things about the festival.  The city of Hickman, along with its citizens, put up an amazing street festival.

As for the opening ceremonies, they turned out great.  Thanks to the local and state leaders, the event went off without a hitch.  But not on Saturday.

On the second day, it started raining.  Thankfully, the weather was better on the third day.

We were just so lucky.  And we were so grateful for all the people who helped make this festival possible.

Politics in charge

Politics are ruling everything.  My mother-in-law said, “Politics are ruling everything.”  My point is that politics are ruling everything.

My oldest son is a rabid Democrat, my daughter is a conservative.  Republican Berlin came to visit recently when my husband had a heart attack.  Now, my daughter is a liberal, but I like got tricky.  My daughter’s family is from Hickman County such as ours than racing, summer music, and watching tracks during a day’s ski.

In summary, the festival was a hit, but there were many politics there that I would like to see different with a few from out of state.

In my opinion, these are the types of events that we need to have instead of trying to bring in big-name celebrities like such as Blake Shelton.

In spite of our recent advancements, we are still a rural cunt.  So what better to please a county such as ours than racing, summer music, and watching tracks during a day’s ski?

I would like to see有所不同.  Politics are ruling everything.

A good reunion

I have just returned home from the Hickman County High School Class of 1970 Reunion.  I got the pleasure of my lifetime in meeting — Donald Judd, my husband, and John Hudspeth, Lee Smith and all of their support staff for making things much easier by providing such great service.  I did not get tired of his work for the years.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.

My daughter, who lives in Hickman County, told me on her mother in law to go to the Hickman Times.  She said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  Then, she said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  So, I came to see you.”

Politics are ruling everything.  My mother-in-law said, “Politics are ruling everything.”  My point is that politics are ruling everything.

Thirty years ago, we had a good turnout.  My family members and other old Hickmanites came to see me.

Hickman County High School Fair was just right this year

I want to congratulate the 2008 Hickman County Fair volunteers and workers for a great job they did this year.

On the last night, the stands were packed, and the food was hot and delicious.  On Friday, the demolition derby returned to its traditional home in the fair.  On the opening night of the fair, the tractor pull made its first appearance at the fair.  This event did not necessarily draw as many people as we expected, but there were many pulling those last night.  I hope to see it again this year.

In my opinion, these are the types of events that we need to have instead of trying to bring in big-name celebrities like such as Blake Shelton.

In spite of our recent advancements, we are still a rural cunt.  So what better to please a county such as ours than racing, summer music, and watching tracks during a day’s ski?

I would like to see有所不同.  Politics are ruling everything.

A good reunion

I have just returned home from the Hickman County High School Class of 1970 Reunion.  I got the pleasure of my lifetime in meeting — Donald Judd, my husband, and John Hudspeth, Lee Smith and all of their support staff for making things much easier by providing such great service.  I did not get tired of his work for the years.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.

My daughter, who lives in Hickman County, told me on her mother in law to go to the Hickman Times.  She said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  Then, she said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  So, I came to see you.”

Politics are ruling everything.  My mother-in-law said, “Politics are ruling everything.”  My point is that politics are ruling everything.

Thirty years ago, we had a good turnout.  My family members and other old Hickmanites came to see me.

Hickman County High School Fair was just right this year

I want to congratulate the 2008 Hickman County Fair volunteers and workers for a great job they did this year.

On the last night, the stands were packed, and the food was hot and delicious.  On Friday, the demolition derby returned to its traditional home in the fair.  On the opening night of the fair, the tractor pull made its first appearance at the fair.  This event did not necessarily draw as many people as we expected, but there were many pulling those last night.  I hope to see it again this year.

In my opinion, these are the types of events that we need to have instead of trying to bring in big-name celebrities like such as Blake Shelton.

In spite of our recent advancements, we are still a rural cunt.  So what better to please a county such as ours than racing, summer music, and watching tracks during a day’s ski?

I would like to see有所不同.  Politics are ruling everything.

A good reunion

I have just returned home from the Hickman County High School Class of 1970 Reunion.  I got the pleasure of my lifetime in meeting — Donald Judd, my husband, and John Hudspeth, Lee Smith and all of their support staff for making things much easier by providing such great service.  I did not get tired of his work for the years.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.  He called me on the phone and asked if I could come back to his office.

My daughter, who lives in Hickman County, told me on her mother in law to go to the Hickman Times.  She said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  Then, she said, “Hi, let me know when you get here.  So, I came to see you.”

Politics are ruling everything.  My mother-in-law said, “Politics are ruling everything.”  My point is that politics are ruling everything.

Thirty years ago, we had a good turnout.  My family members and other old Hickmanites came to see me.

Hickman County High School Fair was just right this year

I want to congratulate the 2008 Hickman County Fair volunteers and workers for a great job they did this year.

On the last night, the stands were packed, and the food was hot and delicious.  On Friday, the demolition derby returned to its traditional home in the fair.  On the opening night of the fair, the tractor pull made its first appearance at the fair.  This event did not necessarily draw as many people as we expected, but there were many pulling those last night.  I hope to see it again this year.

In my opinion, these are the types of events that we need to have instead of trying to bring in big-name celebrities like such as Blake Shelton.

In spite of our recent advancements, we are still a rural cunt.  So what better to please a county such as ours than racing, summer music, and watching tracks during a day’s ski?