

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

COLLEGE OF DESIGN

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

FALL 2008

INTRODUCTION Architecture is a special career involving thinking, organizing, and visualizing through creative acts such as drawing, writing, and constructing. An individual portfolio is the primary means for admission to the School of Architecture. Grades and standardized tests are also considered. You must also apply and be admitted to the University (by February 1). Please call 859 257 7623 if you need additional information.

The School of Architecture is a limited enrollment, selective admission program which has offered an NAAB accredited architecture degree since 1965. The program was changed to an accredited Master of Architecture degree preceded by the pre-professional Bachelor of Arts in Architecture degree in 2003. For many years admission to the program in architecture consisted of the Architectural Admission Test consisting of a series of timed design exercises. The test was offered once yearly on the UK campus on the first Saturday in March.

Beginning with the entering class of Fall 2008, the method of selecting applicants for the Bachelor of Arts in Architecture degree consists of the standard application procedure for University admission plus a unique portfolio for architecture. This procedure, called The Personal Portfolio, will permit the applicant to work out designs and create art for specified projects within a recommended time frame.

THE PERSONAL PORTFOLIO - Your application for admission to the School of Architecture is your personal portfolio made with specific guidelines. The Personal Portfolio application packet containing directions and required materials will be mailed upon receipt of this completed application. The final date for receipt of your Personal Portfolio at Pence Hall is March 1, 2008. Early application is encouraged in order to permit the applicant to have time to thoughtfully complete the assignment. Early submission of the Personal Portfolio is also acceptable.
