A graduate certificate shall have a clear and focused academic topic or competency as its subject, meet a clearly defined educational need of a constituency group, such as required continuing-education or accreditation for a particular profession, respond to a specific state mandate or provide a basic competency in an emerging (preferably interdisciplinary) topic. Certificates are minimally nine graduate credit hours but typically no more than 15. Completed forms must receive appropriate department/school approval and sent to the college for review.

Once approved at the college level, your college will send the proposal to the Graduate Council for review. Once approved at the Graduate Council, the Graduate Council will send the proposal to the Senate Council office for additional review via a committee and then to the Senate Council. Once the Senate Council has approved the proposal, it is moved to the University Senate. Once approved by that body, the University Senate will send the proposal to the Registrar to be included in the Bulletin. The contact person listed on the form will be informed throughout this process.

By default, graduate certificates shall be approved for a period of six (6) years. Re-approvals are also for six years.

2a Provide a brief description of the proposed new graduate certificate. (300 word limit)

The Research Methods in Education Graduate Certificate provides students with a background in quantitative methods, evaluation, measurement and assessment in the field of education. Developing knowledge in educational research methods allows students from outside the College of Education to learn methods they can use in their academic and professional work. Enrolled students will learn to apply a range of research methods, techniques and constructs, to real-world settings, issues, and datasets. The graduate certificate is designed for students interested in Education research methods but who are not in the proposed M.S. Research Methods in

The RMinE Graduate Certificate provides non-education students with the ability to specialize in education research methods that can be applied to a host of disciplines, e.g., social sciences, physical sciences, and business. The courses students will take provide them with a foundation in a range of approaches to research, including quantitative methods, assessment, evaluation, and measurement, which can be applied at the introductory level to their specific fields. The program is open to students within the College of Education who want to demonstrate the have completed rigorous coursework in research methods. Outside of this certificate, this range of skills is not offered elsewhere at the University.

<th>Rationale and Demand. State the rationale for the new graduate certificate and explain the need for it (e.g. market demand, student requests, state mandate, interdisciplinary topic). (400 word limit)</th>

The RMinE certificate introduces students to the systematic process by which research is conducted, within a problem-of-practice framework. The program is inter-disciplinary, crossing fields of study within education, and drawing from perspectives in policy, psychology, pedagogy and history. The core is designed to familiarize students with quantitative, qualitative, psychometric, and evaluation research, so students are prepared to approach research from many perspectives. This distinguishes RMinE from programs that specialize in a single component of methodology. The focus on educational research methods is something that is only beginning to appear at the graduate level. The development of the RMinE at this point provides the university with the opportunity to be a leader in the field. Furthermore, with the option to complete the program completely online asynchronously, so it will be accessible to students who are traditionally hard to reach, such as working professionals, students located in remote areas, and international students.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics predicted job growth data there is a strong need for the skills that students will learn with this certificate. For example, the need for quantitative methodologists is expected to grow at a much faster than average rate (27% from 2012-2022) and the need for survey researchers is expected to grow at a faster than average rate (18% from 2012-2022). Students who leave this program will have the introductory skills to enter into these two areas. Presently there are few programs being offered throughout the country, which offer this range of program knowledge. In addition, this program provides students with the ability to demonstrate they have a research background, particularly masters’ students interested in continuing into advanced research focused degrees.

It is expected that the program will be primarily made of graduate students. Given that many of the courses will be available through an on-line asynchronous format, many students may be non-traditional students. It will also be accessible to students who are traditionally hard to reach, such as working professionals, students located in remote areas, and international students. It is expected that the enrollees in the certificate will primarily be from the College of Education, although students from outside the College of Education may enroll in the certificate program.

3. ADMINISTRATION AND RESOURCES

3a Administration. Describe how the proposed graduate certificate will be administered, including admissions, student advising, retention, etc. (150 word limit)

Admissions procedures and student expectations will follow the guidelines in the University of Kentucky Graduate School’s Graduate Student Handbook and the specific policies of the EPE Graduate Student Handbook. Applications will be accepted each semester, and affiliated faculty will review applications and determine admission. No minimum GPA is required for admission. Students will be required to submit an essay explaining their interest. To receive the graduate certificate, students must complete 15-credit hours in the designated courses. Students may switch out courses with approval from the Director. Students are required to complete each course with a ‘B’ and maintain an overall 3.0 GPA for courses counted towards the graduate certificate. Accepted students will be required to meet with a member of the faculty to discuss appropriate courses. Students must submit a form to the Director of the graduate certificate which specifies what courses they have completed and a guided reflection paper receive their graduate certificate.
3b Graduate Certificate Director/Faculty of Record. (related to 2c) The faculty of record consists of the graduate certificate director and other faculty who will be responsible for planning and participating in the certificate program. (The director must be a member of the Graduate Faculty of the University and is appointed by the dean of the Graduate School. There must be a minimum of three members of the faculty of record who are also members of the Graduate Faculty.) If the answer to question 2c of this form is “yes,” then the faculty of record is typically the graduate faculty of the affiliated degree. (The answer below can be “the faculty of record are the Graduate Faculty for program X.”) If the answer to question 2c is “no,” please describe the process for identifying the faculty of record and the certificate director and address the aspects below. (150 word limit)

- Selection criteria;
- Term of service; and
- Method for adding/removing members.

The certificate director is Kelly D. Bradley, Ph.D. She was selected because she is a research methods professor in the EPE department, heading the department’s creation of a new master’s program and heading the department’s effort to move courses to an on-line format. The faculty of record include Michael Toland, Ph.D., a research methods professor who will be teaching several of the courses within the certificate and Beth Goldstein, Ph.D., the chair of the EPE department. Addition of new members is determined through approval of the current members and members may leave through submitting a resignation to the rest of the committee.

3c Course utilization. Will this graduate certificate include courses from another unit(s)? Yes ☒ | No ☐

If “Yes,” two pieces of supporting documentation are required.

- ☒ Check to confirm that appended to the end of this form is a letter of support from the other units’ chair/director from which individual courses will be used. - ☒ Check to confirm that appended to the end of this form is verification that the chair/director of the other unit has consent from the faculty members of the unit. This typically takes the form of meeting minutes.

3d Financial Resources. What are the (non-course) resource implications for the proposed graduate certificate, including any projected budget needs? (300 word limit)

No resource needs exist for the certificate. The development of the online coursework was supported through an eLII grant (Bradley, Kelly. “Methods in Education Online Degree Program.” eLearning Innovation Initiative – University of Kentucky. §141,247. Start Date: 5/16/15, End Date: 5/15/16)

6. ASSESSMENT

6a  Student learning outcomes. Please provide the student learning outcomes for the graduate certificate. List the knowledge, competencies, and skills (learning outcomes) students will be able to do upon completion. (Use action verbs, not simply “understand.”) (250 word limit)

- Students will leave the program with the ability to develop research questions and apply appropriate analytical techniques. (Methodological Skills)
- Students are expected to have the theoretical knowledge related to research design and analysis. (Theoretical Knowledge)
- Students will leave the program with ability and knowledge of quantitative methods, evaluation/assessment, or research methods. (Analytical Ability)
- Students will leave the program with the ability to produce their own work, developing research plans and studies which address stated research questions. (Application of Knowledge and Skills)

6b  Student learning outcome (SLO) assessment. How and when will student learning outcomes be assessed? Please map proposed measures to the SLOs they are intended to assess. Do not use grades or indirect measures (e.g., focus groups, surveys) as the sole method. Measures likely include artifacts such as course-embedded assessment (e.g., portfolios, research papers or oral presentations); and course-embedded test items (embedded test questions, licensure/certification testing, nationally or state-normed exams). (300 word limit)

Student learning outcomes are assessed within each course. Students will also submit a reflection as part of a regular component of the EPE/EDP 620 Topics and Methods of Evaluation course. The reflection will ask them to discuss their experiences and outcomes in the three areas of quantitative methods, evaluation, and research design. Finally, students will be surveyed at the end of their program.
Certificate outcome assessment. Describe evaluation procedures for the proposed graduate certificate. Include how the faculty of record will determine whether the program is a success or a failure. List the benchmarks, the assessment tools, and the plan of action if the program does not meet its objectives. (250 word limit)

Program outcomes are:
- Examination of reflections by students demonstrates students are meeting expected learning outcomes.
- Program course evaluations by students are reported to be on-par or above other programs in the college.
- Enrollment expectations are being met.
Data will be collected through student evaluations of the program, surveys of students who have graduated, through financial records, and a review of the current program participants. This data will be used to adjust program quality. Courses not meeting expectations will be altered to ensure that student outcomes and quality expectations are being met. If enrollment numbers are not what has been expected, additional marketing efforts will be made by the faculty involved. The certificate will be deemed a success if enrollment and student learning objectives are being met.

To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to offer my full support for the College of Education’s Department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation (EPE) proposal for the Masters in Research Methods in Education, as well as the certificate. EPE has developed a unique program that will be competitive on a national as well as international scale.

EPE proposes to create Masters in Research Methods in Education that will be available in an online, asynchronous delivery. This program will provide students with the evidence-based decision making skills needed to succeed in a wide array of research settings including academic institutions; schools and districts; state and federal agencies; healthcare research settings; and certification, licensing, and testing organizations. To date, there is only one similar program in the country – thus the demand is high.

This interdisciplinary program will draw from such perspectives as social policy, psychology, history, and educational innovation. The degree will stand alone, but it can be used as preparation for a variety of doctoral programs. The degree will be housed in EPE but coursework and related experiences will be collaboratively provided by departments across the College, Kentucky’s Districts of Innovation, and with the Innovation Labs Network, serving 10 states and housed in the National Center for Innovation in Education led by Gene Wilhoit.

The College of Education will provide continued support for this new program in two important ways:

1. COE Next Generation Learning Strategic Team consisting of experienced instructional designers, programmers, data analysts, and innovation leaders. This interdisciplinary team connects Next Generation Learning attributes (i.e., personalized and performance-based learning; anytime, everywhere opportunities) with students and faculty as well as with experts in instructional design.

2. COE Online Teaching and Learning Supports Team offers hands-on technical assistance with learning management systems, beginning course design for both synchronous and asynchronous formats, support with several audiovisual software programs, and technical advising regarding equipment, software, and platforms. This team also helps link faculty to existing resources within the university to enable them to offer high quality courses using the latest pedagogic technologies, while being able to address the learning needs of all of their students.
It is with great enthusiasm that I provide my full support to this innovative program. If I can provide any additional information please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Mary John O’Hair

Thank you for submission of the SACS COC Substantive Change Checklists for the 15 hour Research Methods in Education (RMinE) Certificate program. Based on your responses, the proposed program does not constitute substantive change as defined by SACSCOC, the university's regional accreditor. At this time, no additional documentation is needed.

Letters of Departmental and Faculty Support
Support and Verification from Department Chairs
I write as interim chair of the originating department for the Master's degree, Research Methods in Education, RMinE. On behalf of the faculty members of the Department of Educational Policy Studies & Evaluation, I approve submission of this proposal and convey to you EPE's endorsement of the proposed degree program.

Within the College of Education, EPE offers the widest array of research methods courses, designed to develop graduate students' knowledge and skills in basic and applied research and in evaluation methods. Our courses cover qualitative and quantitative methodologies, for the purposes of historical and contemporary research in educational policy, learning outcomes and assessment, program evaluation, testing and measurement, and more. These courses have been offered mostly in service to graduate degree programs within our own department and across the College of Education and to other applied research disciplines, primarily as training for students to conduct thesis and dissertation research. Nine faculty members in EPE teach research methods courses. Other departments in the College also offer research methods courses, though not with the same breadth or depth of coverage. Approximately six years ago, the research methods faculty members in EPE and EDP began meeting regularly to coordinate content, sequencing and rotation of the quantitative methods courses offered by the two departments. Other departments in the College of Education are also now part of this effort. This collaboration has allowed for more efficient and effective use of faculty time and expertise, enhancing the coverage and frequency of coursework available to students. It has recently brought about the redesign of several individual research methods courses from traditional classroom formats to online formats, with plans to alternate the delivery format in a systematic, cross-department coordinated schedule. Out of this grew discussion about the possibilities of creating a graduate degree program focused on Research Methods in Education. Having benefitted from the support of an eLII University of Kentucky grant, we are now ready to submit the degree for review.

Given national and global trends in educational testing, assessment and evidence-based policy-making, we have experienced enrollment growth in research methods courses, demand for these courses from people within and outside of UK, and a robust employment market for graduates with applied research and evaluation skill sets. We therefore see the strong potential for this Masters degree program to increase graduate enrollment locally, nationally and internationally. With the tuition revenues this can generate, the program should quickly recoup the startup investment and be able to support doctoral student assistantships. Its presence in the College of Education will also provide important flow of graduate assistants to our Evaluation Center, a unit that now in its 3rd year is self-supporting through grants and contracts, with 8 staff and graduate assistants.

Finally, the courses that will be part of this Masters degree initiative will simultaneously continue to serve as research methods courses in support of other degree programs but now in a delivery mode that will greatly enhance their accessibility. You will read in the letters of support that EPE will be the home department of this degree initiative. However, it will be developed and delivered in collaboration with research methods faculty from at least the Departments of Educational, School and Counseling Psychology (EDP), Curriculum & Instruction (EDC), and Educational Leadership (EDL). Drs. Jeff Reese, Susan Cantrell, and Beth Rous, respectively chairs of the aforementioned departments, have provided letters of support for this proposal. Technical support will be provided by the College of Education's Instructional Technology Center, Office for Online Teaching and Learning, and Library, as well as through UK instructional support units.

The EPE Department is committed to supporting the individual courses and degree proposal through the College of Education, University and accrediting body review processes. It is also committed to allocating the faculty time for instruction of the proposed courses and the advising of students enrolled in the program.

Sincerely,

Jütt

Re: Commitment to Proposal, Research Methods in Education (RMinE)
From: Department Chair Educational, School, and Counseling Psychology

October 20, 2015

I am writing in support of the Research Methods in Education master’s degree online proposal submitted by Dr. Bradley from the Department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation. For multiple years now, our departments have collaborated to enhance the research methods’ course offerings in the college, working to create tracks in measurement, evaluation, and statistics, the three areas also highlighted in this program. Currently, many of our quantitative methods courses are cross-listed between EPE and EDP, resulting in faculty from both departments teaching the courses on a rotating schedule. Faculty in both departments have been working together to move many of the traditionally face-to-face research course offerings to an online format, with all of these courses either approved or under review. Beyond the master’s degree itself, the online delivery of many of these courses will support our current graduate students and enhance their opportunities. I am happy to support further efforts between our departments. If approved, the program will expand our already flourishing research curriculum.

Sincerely,

Dr. Kelly Bradley, Professor

Dear Dr. Bradley,

This letter is in support of the online Masters in Research Methods in Education program to be offered by the Department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation. As part of the proposal, the Department of Curriculum & Instruction has been selected as a collaborator based on specific research expertise of some of our faculty. The type of cross-departmental collaboration that would be offered through this program would provide graduate students with increased exposure and access to leading scholars both within and outside their areas of expertise, thus providing them with a richer and more dynamic research skill set. As any seasoned researcher knows, connections and networking in a variety of research areas and across disciplines can lead to unprecedented opportunities in the future.

As part of the proposed program, EDC 707: Mixed Methods taught by Dr. Joan Mazur is listed as an elective. This course is currently offered in our department and will not require any additional resources to include it in the proposed program. Another faculty member in our department, Dr. Kristen Perry, has taught EPE 663: Field Studies as part of her DOE during the 2013-2014 academic year. Although this cross-departmental instructional collaboration is a newly developed partnership, we look forward to additional opportunities for our faculty to engage in similar ways. Additionally, the proposed program will support the teacher education transformation work that is currently taking place in our department as we seek new ways to further develop online options for our current and future students. The Department of Curriculum & Instruction is pleased to be part of this collaborative opportunity and is in full support of the proposal. We look forward to accepting students into EDC 707 to fulfill one of their elective requirements as well as additional opportunities that may arise in the future.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

As Chair of the Department of Educational Leadership Studies, I understand that the Department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation is creating a Masters program focused on research methods. Further, I understand they wish to use one of our existing courses (i.e., EDL669: Leadership for School Problem Solving) in their program. We are in full support of their effort and the inclusion of this course and feel it will be beneficial for both departments and for students across the college.

Research Methods in Education (RMinE) Online Degree Program

This memo serves as commitment to serve as program director, an active advisor to students and a core instructor for the Research Methods in Education masters degree. Specifically, I will be available to teach EPE/EDP 557, EPE/EDP 558, EPE 619, EPE/EDP 620 & 621, EPE/EDP 660, EPE 525, EPE/EDP 522, and EDP 656. As needed, I have the skill set and teaching experience to offer other courses also included in this degree program. In addition, I will provide supervision of internship as requested. I currently serve as PI on the funded eLII grant through the University of Kentucky, received to develop and implement this degree program. I initiated this degree and want nothing more than for it to succeed, for the betterment of our college and university. Currently, I am teaching a large section of EPE/EDP 557 online and am offering EPE 619 as well. I have taught all courses listed for multiple years with outstanding teaching evaluations and look forward to the new online venue to complement our face-to-face offerings. These courses are all part of our regular research methods offering; thus, the stability and availability of the course are assured. The Research Methods in Education (RMinE) masters program is an exciting and much needed addition to our research methods offerings in the College of Education. I do hope you will support our proposal, as it will enhance the research methods offerings of the entire university, while creating a one of a kind, quality and much needed degree program. I am thrilled to be leading this innovative program.

Dear Kelly,

I am writing to let you know that I fully support and am committed to teaching online courses for the newly proposed online Master’s degree in Research Methods in Education (RMinE). As an expert in applied psychometrics and statistics in the department of Educational, School, and Counseling Psychology in the College of Education and instructor of almost all quantitative courses, I am very capable of collaborating with you and other colleagues in the College of Education in order to make this new online degree a top tier degree. I am committed to teaching several of the courses online: EPE/EDP 557 (Gathering, Analyzing, & Using Educational Data I), 558 (Gathering, Analyzing, & Using Educational Data II), 656 (Methodology of Educational Research), 522 (Psychological & Educational Tests & Measurement), and 660 (Research Design & Analysis in Education).

Evidence of my support has already been made by my efforts to create, modify, and teach 522 online and my current efforts in creating all necessary components to teach 660 and 656 online next year. This new online degree in RMinE is highly needed not only at the University of Kentucky, but around the world. Our face-to-face research methods courses are already overfilled and since making 522 and 557 available online our courses have been in much higher demand. By offering the degree and courses online we will be able to not only better serve and accommodate graduate students seeking such a degree in our College, but better serve the University of Kentucky campus and generate more revenue for the College of Education and University of Kentucky by reaching students that are unable to physically be located in or near Lexington, KY. You and I have been in discussions about this new degree for several years now, so I am excited to continue working with you once the new online Master’s program grant is funded.

Sincerely,

I am a clinical faculty member in the department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation at the University of Kentucky. As part of the EPE department, I am committed to teaching Introduction to Evaluation (EPE/EDP 620) and Advanced Topics and Methods of Evaluation (EPE/EDP 621) for the Research Methods in Education (RMinE) online master’s program.

I have experience with other online programs and have found that developing an online program using Quality Matters standards makes learning goals explicit, promotes continuity for faculty and students, and ensures programs meet national standards. These online programs enable the university to serve a broader range of students and increase program impact. In addition, proactively developing an online program provides an opportunity to embed metrics that serve to satisfy both internal and external stakeholders.

To whom it may concern:

I am Jungmin Lee, an assistant professor in the department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation. I would like to teach EPE 557 and 558 (Gathering, Analyzing, and Using Education Data) in the Research Methods in Education program. I firmly believe that this program will attract many prospective students who work in the field and would like to learn more about how to effectively handle data to better serve their students. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

RE: Masters in Research Methods in Education

I write in support of the Masters in Research Methods in Education under development by our department, Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation. I am an Assistant Professor in the department and am responsible for teaching quantitative methods courses. The RMinE masters is an excellent degree for the College of Education and the University, as it allows us more flexibility in offering quality methods courses more broadly and will answer a need and demand for research training. I will be actively involved in instructing courses in both the core curriculum and the quantitative methods strand, as well as supporting the advising of students. I accept this challenge and look forward to my work with the degree program.

Sincerely,

RE: Masters in Research Methods in Education

To Whom It May Concern:

I write in support of the Masters in Research Methods in Education under development by our department, Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation. I am an Associate Professor in the department and have seventeen years of experience teaching qualitative methods courses in the college. The proposed new masters is a positive step for the College of Education and the University as it will allow us more flexibility in offering quality methods courses more broadly and will answer a consistent demand for research training.

The sequence of courses offered in the college that introduce qualitative methods of generating and analyzing data, specifically EPE663 Field Studies in Education and EPE763 Advanced Field Studies, is one of the few options available at the University for students interested in exploring questions best served by a qualitative approach to research design. As a result, we regularly have students in our sequence from across the university and our classes are always fully subscribed. Recently, we have added a second section of the introductory course to try to meet the demand; however, every year there are more students than we have seats.

One of the difficulties we have faced in offering qualitative research methods at UK is the constraint of the face-to-face mode of course delivery. Our courses are experiential and therefore require time for the students to apply their learning to real-world problems of research design and implementation. Offering short summer courses has been suggested, but this does not provide enough time for students to gain experience under faculty supervision. Developing an online version of EPE663 in particular would allow us to expand opportunities for students interested in qualitative methods while still giving them time to develop their skills and understanding of the philosophical rationale for their choice of methodological approach.

I look forward to developing my own skills in teaching in an asynchronous classroom environment. A course like EPE663, with its experiential focus and theoretical underpinnings, will be challenging to convert to an online environment. Support from the university in this development will be necessary so that we will be able to offer the best course possible. I accept this challenge and look forward to the development of the degree program.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

As an Associate Professor of the Department of Educational Leadership Studies, I understand that the Department of Educational Policy Studies and Evaluation is creating a Masters program focused on research methods. Further, I understand that they wish to use one of our existing courses (i.e., EDL669: Leadership for School Problem Solving) in their program. I have taught this course and will continue to teach this course in the future. Adding this course to their Masters is a great idea. I am in full support of having their student take this course.

RE: Masters in Research Methods in Education

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my support for the Masters in Research Methods in Education program being developed by the Department of Educational Policy Studies & Evaluation. Currently I am an Assistant Professor in the department and have 15 years of experience using quantitative and qualitative methods in a wide variety of applied research contexts. The proposed Masters program will allow our department to meet a rapidly increasing demand for research methods in education policy and evaluation fields.

Our department offers a full sequence of research methods courses. The “gateway” courses in this sequence include EPE 557 and EPE 558 (Gathering, Analyzing, and Using Educational Data I & II, respectively). These courses are crucial to our program because they offer students a strong foundation from which to critically engage with data, and are prerequisites to our intermediate and advanced research methods courses. As such, these courses attract students from across the College of Education and UK and are regularly at or over capacity.

It is no secret that research methods are among the most challenging courses students encounter in graduate school. It takes a significant amount of time, effort, and engagement for students to acquire these tools at a level that allows them to approach practical research problems. A key strategy toward this end is providing students with the time and space to analyze data and to consider which methodological tools are best suited to the problem at hand. The advancement of online platforms has created virtual opportunities in which students can pursue this practical and technical expertise in an environment that affords them control over the pacing of conceptual understanding and application. Thus, offering online versions of EPE 557 and EPE 558 will allow our department to simultaneously meet the growing demand for these courses and provide us the ability to tailor our offerings to a more diverse array of learning styles.

There is great potential in offering these and other such courses in an online environment. However, the task is challenging and will require that we develop our pedagogical repertoire accordingly. In addition, our department will need support from the University to ensure that we have the capacity to develop our program into a rigorous and productive degree offering. I look forward to this challenge and opportunity.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern:

I, Dr. Kristen H. Perry, am writing this letter in support of the proposed master's program in Research Methods in Education. I teach EPE 663, Field Studies in Education, which draws from interpretive traditions to introduce students to qualitative research methods in educational settings.

The proposed program, through its online platform, has the potential to reach a wider student base across multiple departments and programs, which will help to relieve the current problem of students being waitlisted for face-to-face courses with limited seat availability. Additionally, a masters program in research methods will also support the College's mission to the Commonwealth of Kentucky to provide education professionals who are prepared to conduct and interpret research, and, thus, to provide important leadership and new knowledge to the state (and beyond).

RE: Letter of Commitment for Course Inclusion for Research Methods in Education (RMinE) Online Degree Program
EDC 726 – Mixed Methods for Curriculum Inquiry

This letter serves as a letter of support and commitment to provide EDC 726 – Mixed Methods for Curriculum Inquiry course as part of this online degree program. This course has been offered every other fall semester for the past 10 years and is required as part of another interdisciplinary Ph.D. program, thus the stability and availability of the course are assured.

The Research Methods in Education (RMinE) masters program is an exciting and much needed addition to our research methods offerings in the College of Education. As quality and accountability in myriad arenas of education and training become a primary concern for not only educational institutions and business and industry, skilled and prepared educational researchers are a primary and much needed resource in the Commonwealth and the nation.
On the numerous privately and publically funded grants in which I have participated over the years I have been here at UK, every grant requires funded positions for individuals with the research methods skills this program will provide. Large grants are not funded without collaborative partnerships and the College of Education is positioned to provide graduate level professional researchers and evaluators through this program who can meet these needs.

I am pleased to participate in this innovative and rigorous program that will advance the 21st research mission of our college and land-grant university.

RE: Letter of Commitment for Evaluation Services

Dear Dr. Bradley:

The purpose of this letter is to convey my commitment for the Evaluation Center at the University of Kentucky to provide evaluation services for the Research Methods in Education (RMinE) online master's program. The Evaluation Center will direct efforts and provide resources to examine accessibility, practicality, quality, and utility of the program, as well as, outcomes and long term impacts.

The Evaluation Center is fully staffed with a director, assistant-director, and four research assistants who are proficient with quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods approaches to evaluation. As director, I have over 9 years' experience working in evaluation with recent publications in the area of principal preparation program evaluation and the impact of co-designed/co-delivered online doctoral courses.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION COURSES AND CURRICULA COMMITTEE MEETING

November 12, 2015 1:00 - 2:30 151F Taylor Education Bldg

Committee Members present
C&I: Margaret Rintamaa
EDL: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno
EDSRC: Bob McKenzie
EDP: Michael Toland (standing in for Jon Campbell)
EPE: Willis Jones
KHP: Justin Nichols (chair)
STEM: Molly Fisher

Ex-Officio members present
Rosetta Sandidge
Gary Schroeder
Martha Geoghegan

Susan Cantrell was present, representing the Curriculum and Instruction department, and speaking to the reading recovery program proposals.

The committee voted to continue to use the services of Martha, Gary, and Rosetta in taking notes, but with the proviso that the minutes will be reviewed by the chair, prior to being sent out to the committee.

Agenda was approved for review.

From Curriculum and Instruction

Following is an old set of courses that have been offered for years as a set of special titles. These proposals will update the courses. The program is for reading recovery teachers. They are hired by a school, but are trained by UK through this program. These proposals will regularize this program. The program is not an official UK certificate, and there is no EPSB certificate for it. Many of the staff members teaching 700 level courses may not have a doctorate. By regularizing the program, it will make it easier to use the teacher staff.

New Course Proposal – EDC 502 Teaching Reading to Low Achieving Primary Students
New Course Proposal – EDC 503 Teaching Reading to Low Achieving Primary Students, Advanced
New Course Proposal – EDC 622 Observing and Responding to Young Readers
New Course Proposal – EDC 623 Theoretical Foundations: Language and Literacy
New Course Proposal – EDC 624 Leadership Practicum for Teacher Leaders
New Course Proposal – EDC 627 Observing and Responding to Young Readers, Advanced
New Course Proposal – EDC 628 Theoretical Foundations: Issues in Literacy Difficulties
New Course Proposal – EDC 629 Leadership Practicum for Teacher Leaders, Advanced
• Motion to accept and approve all of the courses as a group.
• Questions and Discussion: The two courses 502 and 503 are essentially the same. However one course is noted as being advanced. The course used to be one course, but was taught across two semesters. Bob McKenzie noted that there needs to be a prerequisite of 502 for 503.
  o In 622, the course description is the same as 502 and 503. Could a person take 622 before taking 502 and 503?
  o Note: if a course is at the 500 level, you have to demonstrate what makes it a graduate course.
  o 622 also has the same course description…. Again, what will differentiate these courses? Bob McKenzie thinks that without more clarity, the course proposals will be rejected at the university committee level.
  o It was noted that all of the course proposals need to be checked to ensure the graduate grading scale is indicated.
  o There was some discussion of whether the syllabi ought to use the NCATE syllabus template. The decision is no, because the courses require the candidates to be accepted for reading recovery, which is not EPSB approved program.
  o It was noted that the person identified as the disabilities resource person, and the person noted as religion resource person both are incorrectly identified.
• Action: The committee discussed how to deal with the approval process, given that there are a number of problems that have been noted.
  o The committee discussed whether the courses should be tabled.
  o All of the courses were tabled for review in December.

From Early Childhood, Special Education, and Rehabilitation Counseling

The committee voted to review new course RC 570 separately, and the remaining minor course changes as a group.

New Course Proposal – RC 570 Crisis Disaster and Trauma Response for Persons with Disabilities

• Motion to approve/Second: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno and Bob McKenzie
• Questions and Discussion:
  o The grading scale needs to be specified.
  o The course number on the syllabus is incorrect. Martha indicated if the syllabus is to be changed, then the current course has to be deleted. And then add the updated version of the syllabus.
  o There was a demonstration and discussion of how eCATS requires an author to change a proposal after it has originally been submitted.
    • There was a general discussion of the experiences that committee members have had in navigating the eCATS system.
  o Dr. Crystal will meet with Martha to make these changes.
• Action: Approve with the required changes as specified above.
Remaining minor course changes to be reviewed as a group.

Minor Course Change Request – RC 520 Principles of Rehabilitation Counseling
Minor Course Change Request – RC 610 Case Management in Rehabilitation Counseling
Minor Course Change Request – RC 620 Vocational Evaluation and Work Adjustment
Minor Course Change Request – RC 630 Placement Services and Techniques in Rehab Counseling
Minor Course Change Request – RC 650 Rehabilitation & Mental Health Counseling Theory & Practice I
Minor Course Change Request – RC 660 Rehabilitation & Mental Health Counseling Theory & Practice II

Minor Course Change Request – KHP 580 Introduction to Team Development

- Motion to Approve/Second: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno and Molly Fisher
- Questions and Discussion:
  - The graduate grading scale needs to be marked, and the differences between the grading scales must be added to the syllabus.
- Action: Approved with the required changes above.

Education Abroad Proposal – KHP 420G and KHP 300 Sum 2016 Ed Abroad London England

- Motion to Approve/Second: Bob McKenzie and Molly Fisher
- Questions and Discussion:
  - Noted that nothing has changed but Ed Abroad programs must be approved every year.
- Action: Approved

From Educational, School, and Counseling Psychology

New Course Proposal – EDP 305 Introduction to Counseling Skills

- Input from Author: This course is has been reviewed by the Departments of Psychology and the College of Social Work, and has been approved.
- Motion to Approve/Second: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno and Margaret Rintamaa
- Questions and Discussion:
This course would probably be an elective in a number of majors.
Where is there a notation of the review and approval by the other department and college
  These approval documents can be uploaded to the approval as attachments.

Action: Approved, with the requirement above

Major Change Request – EDP 606 Professional Issues in Counseling Psychology

Motion to Approve/Second: Molly Fisher and Bob
Questions and Discussion:
  Needs the graduate school grading scale indicated
Action: Approved with the requirement above

New Course Proposal – EDP 704 Social Justice Consultation and Evaluation

Motion to Approve/Second: Bob McKenzie/Tricia Browne-Ferrigno
Questions and Discussion:
  Needs graduate school grading scale
Action: Approved with the requirement above

New Course Proposal – EDP 712 Advanced Psychometric Methods

Input from Author: There was a discussion from Michael Toland about the need for this as a new course.
  The course was presented to the committee by Michael Toland representing EDP and representing EPE.

Motion to Approve/Second: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno/Bob McKenzie
Amendments:
  See the questions below
Questions and Discussion:
  It was commented that EDP 711 was submitted at the same time, but did not make it on to the agenda.
  Actually, EDP 712 is cross listed with EPE 712.
  Note that the syllabus course description for EDP 711 doesn’t match the description in the proposal.

Action: Approved with the required two changes above.
Additional question…. What to do about EDP/EPE 711 which was also submitted, but not in time to get on the agenda.
  eCATS shows that the course did not have the right submission date.
  EDP 711 will be reviewed at the next meeting

Major Course Change Request – EDP 765 Independent Study in Counseling Psychology

Motion to Approve/Second: Tricia Browne-Ferrigno/Molly Fisher
Questions and Discussion:
  o The graduate grading scale box needs to be checked.
  o If all that is needed is changing the title, then this should not be a major course change… it should be a minor change.
    ▪ Note… there is a change from independent study to a graduate seminar
    ▪ The course title has been changed
    ▪ If they want to keep EDP 765 available as an independent study, then possibly you can’t use the course change process as stated.
    ▪ Possibly this really should have been a new course and a program change
    ▪ There was a motion to table this course until the above questions have been resolved by the department
  • Action: Table the proposal until it is resubmitted or clarified

From Education Policy Studies and Evaluation

New Program Proposal – Master’s of Science in Research Methods in Education (RMinE)

Motion to review the program and the certificate program together.
  • The courses are being taught collaboratively between EDP and EPE.
  • The courses will all be available online or as face to face.
  • There are five courses in the certificate
  • The core for the master's degree plus an elective constitutes the certificate
  • It is a 36 credit master's degree.
  • Discussion of how the program and certificate were developed.
  • Question called… both the program and certificate were approved
