

Intercultural Communication Basics Mini-Seminar

Wonder why the French baker never cracked a smile no matter how many times you went in beaming at him with your newfound French?

Did you find yourself waiting for host-country friends when you knew that you had set a specific time to meet?

These types of experiences can be confusing, and we often return without answers. This mini-seminar on Intercultural Communication can provide some insight into these communication snags and give some tools for understanding future encounters at home or abroad. This seminar is led by Melinda Miller, Education Abroad Advisor.

Limit: 20 students

Location: TBA

Time: 5:30-7:30 pm

Dates: Monday, October 15
Monday, October 22
Monday, October 29
