RESEARCH PROJECTS

Current/Ongoing

8/99-current

Principal Investigator

Commonwealth of Kentucky Cabinet for Families & Children Grant: Grant #M-06069912.

Comprehensive Assessment & Training Services Project (Recurrent Funding)

This project began as a three-year, $1 million grant to the University of Kentucky College of Social Work and College of Medicine (Department of Psychiatry) from the Cabinet for Families & Children. The project mandated the development of an innovative research and clinical program to develop and implement an interdisciplinary approach to evaluation of maltreated children and their families, and to incorporate and transfer mental health knowledge and technology into child welfare forensic decision-making. Currently, the CATS Project is in its sixth year of operation, and is funded at about $1.3 million annually providing assessment, treatment, and training services. UK CATS Project also includes a strong research component, which has yielded refereed papers and presentations, workshops, and research posters. Conceptual and empirical investigation manuscripts have been published beginning in 2002. Grant proposals are also in process to supplement current funding and to provide funding for research projects and doctoral student fellowships. The project also includes a major training site for graduate and doctoral students. (Leadership of this project is shared with Ginny Sprang, Ph.D)

Co-Principal Investigator

U.S. Dept of Health and Human Services—Substance Abuse & Mental Health Services Administration
National Child Traumatic Stress Network-Level Three Center Grant # 1U79SM058230-01

The Child and Adolescent Trauma Treatment Institute (CATTI) is a multidisciplinary, University-Community collaboration housed at the University of Kentucky's Center for the Study of Violence against Children. The mission of CATTI is to facilitate child and family recovery from psychological trauma through statewide service delivery, and to increase the capacity of the mental health community to provide services that are empirically-based and culturally relevant. This mission is undertaken in partnership with public child welfare, the judiciary and the Department of Mental Health. This project builds on an already nationally-recognized child assessment and treatment center in Kentucky, and proposes to develop a clinical nucleus for clinical training, and dissemination of trauma informed evidence-based practices (TI-EBPs) in four rural to urban areas in Kentucky. The project is funded at $1.6 million over four years.

10/03-current

Co-Principal Investigator

U.S. Dept of Health and Human Services--Health Resources and Services Administration
Grant #1 T01HP01397-01-00.

The UK Behavioral Health Disaster Response Project is associated with the University of Kentucky Comprehensive Assessment and Training Services (CATS) Project. Funding is provided by Office of the Assistant Secretary of Preparedness and Response (ASPR) through grant #1 T01HP01397-01-00 to provide trainings to mental health professionals in collaboration with the University of Louisville to the following disciplines: psychiatry, psychology, social work, professional counseling, marriage and family therapy and drug and alcohol counseling. As of March 2007, approximately 2,500 healthcare providers have been trained by this project statewide, nationally and internationally.

6/05-current

Co-Principal Investigator

Pilot project in partnership with Carol Jordan (UK Center for Research on Violence against Women) and Thomas Lawson (UK College of Law)

The Sentencing & Parole of Battered Women Who Kill: The influence of gender & victim type. This is an internally-funded project designed to generate preliminary findings regarding equity in sentences for female victims of violence. Initial data collection has revealed significant data regarding child maltreatment and fatality events that will generate additional findings which can be used to generate multidisciplinary grant proposals across Social Work, Law, Psychiatry, and UKCRVAW.

5/06-current

Workgroup Member and Author

Council of Social Work Workgroup on Research Integrity. U.S. HHS, Office of Research Integrity through the American Association of Medical Colleges. Grant # US2MPORI01.
