

Children's Services

PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS: A FEW MODEST PROPOSALS FROM NEW YORK
CITY

John B. Mattingly, PhD, MSW

Commissioner

New York City Administration for Children's Services

September 2008

Overview

- I. Models of Privatization: By Function, By Role, By Purpose, By Financing
- II. Principles of Effective Public/Private Partnerships
- III. Public-Private Partnership in New York City: History, Roles, Attitudes Over Time
- IV. Visions Are Not Enough: A Modest Beginning in One Jurisdiction

I. Models of Privatization: By Function, By Role, By Purpose, By Financing

- By Function
 - a) CPS
 - b) Family Services
 - c) Foster Care
 - d) Residential Treatment

- By Oversight Role
 1. Case Management a Public Agency Responsibility
 2. Shared Case Management
 3. Designated Case Management

- By Financing Design
 1. Per Diem (One night in an agency bed)
 2. Results (Fewer Steps-ups Lead To More $)
 3. Case (Managed Care)

Children's Services

- By Purpose
 1. Presumed Better Service by Private Agencies
 2. Response to Perceived Public Agency Failures
 3. Cost Savings

Children's
Services

II. Principles of Effective Public/Private Partnerships

- In Child Welfare Ideology is Dangerous
- THE WORK IS THE WORK IS THE WORK
- There Must be Shared Power in Current Relationship
- The Challenges Are the Same
- Private Agencies Have Strengths and Weaknesses
- Most System Weaknesses Have Shared Causes
- There Are Critical Public Functions
- Media and Political Leaders will Sell Privatization as a Cost Saving Initiative
- Partnership must be Built Together
- Partnership without Accountability is Empty

III. Public-Private Partnership in New York City: History, Roles, Attitudes Over Time

- Historical Background
- Key Issues (Oversight; Case Responsibility, Funding)
- 1996-2004
- 2005-20009

IV. Visions Are Not Enough: A Modest Beginning

A. Patterns of Accountability

- Case Management
- New Role – Agency Program Assistance
- New Role – Family Conferencing

B. Patterns of Financing

- Reinvestment
- Flexibility

C. Practice as a Shared Responsibility

D. System is Focused on Results