

Did You Know...

- Last year an annual tradition began in North Hall? Hint... it involves a microphone, food, and special guests!
- Many celebrities are also artists or have studied in your field of interest?
- You can write to the Arts Community Newsletter staff and get your voice heard (maybe even published)?!

Welcome to your Living Learning Community!

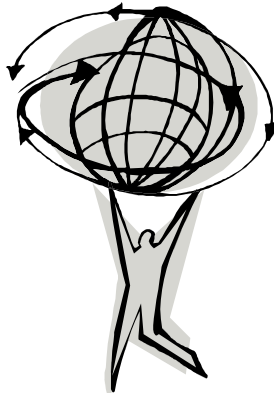

So this is it... You are officially a college student! You also happen to be an elite member of one of the finest Living Learning Communities on UK's campus... the Arts Community! Living Learning Communities (LLC's) were introduced at the University of Kentucky to help connect the world of academics to the residence halls. Providing abundant resources, highly trained in-hall staff, superb programs, and events galore... are just a few of the amenities offered to LLC students.

North Hall houses the Arts Community and this year marks it's 3rd birthday! Ingles has as tradition of offering fantastic happenings for its students. The annual tradition of Open Mic Night will continue this year, if students share their talents!! Let your RA know if you are interested in helping or participating! Be sure to look for advertisements in your hall... the RA's are always working up creative ideas!

The Arts LLC is comprised of 25 students majoring in art-related fields. This experience is specifically designed to offer you opportunities to meet key individuals in your field (in both the UK and Lexington communities), connect with students in your classes socially and academically, and so much more! There is even an artist-in-residence in North Hall... be sure to meet Patrick if you haven't already!

The Fall 2007 semester is already shaping up to be a great one! Work hard, have fun, be safe, and enjoy this experience... we are so glad you are here!

To submit articles, information, events, or otherwise contact the Newsletter staff... please see the contact information located at the bottom of the back page!
