God Triumphs Over Gays

Frankfort, KY – In a vintage tour-de-force, the Lord God, Master of all Creation, scored a stunning upset over Satan this year with the passage of an amendment to the Kentucky state Constitution excluding homosexuals from the legal definition of marriage.

“This representeth many millennia of work for thy God,” explained the Almighty at a press conference soon afterward. “From Sodom and Gomorrah to the Crusades, this victory is the culmination of centuries of struggle against the Dark forces: marriage is saved at last!”

But the outcome was not always so rosy. “At first, thy God was skeptical. Though I hath succeeded in other states before, one can never be too sure: the influence of the Evil One hath formed strongholds in the large cities of the Commonwealth. But in the end, good prevailed over evil. The effort hath been great, and on a day like Tuesday (November 2nd) when it looks like thy God is outmatched on paper significantly, thy God just can’t undersell the importance of a group of believers coming together at the ballot box to deny basic civil rights to others.”

The outlook from the Underworld was not as upbeat.

“This loss was pretty disappointing for us,” added the Prince of Darkness speaking shortly afterward to reporters. “I really thought we had Kentucky in the bag until those exit polls started coming in. It’s hard, but you have to get over it. We’re just going to take it one day at a time, look at what worked and what didn’t and then try to make some adjustments. I mean if I can no longer tempt good Christian men and women into consensual lifetime commitments of monogamous homosexual union, where do you go from there? False idols? Heavy petting? Communism?!”

In the end, the Lord expressed gratitude for the victory and outlined His agenda for the future.

“I give thanks unto Myself, Most Holy of Holy, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob and look forward to tackling more challenges in the years to come: indecency in print and broadcast media, the influx of illegal immigrants into the United States, and high taxes on large corporations everywhere.”

SG Overturns Election

After its longest and most heated debate of the year, Student Government passed a resolution naming John Kerry U.S. President by unanimous consent. The resolution orders Congress to ignore the results of the Electoral College for unspecified reasons.

"This is not about opposing the 'democratic process.' This is about understanding that process, what you can and cannot do in this country, what an 'election' means, how our 'government' works," explained SG Communications Director Will Nash.

Chief Advisor Karl Rove Lays Out Plan for 2nd Term After "Landslide" Victory

"This election was a mandate from the people telling us they overwhelmingly approve of the job the President has done so far and encouraging him to expand his efforts in new and creative ways. We always thought the public wanted lower taxes, protection from terrorism, and a strong Christian leader in the White House. Now we know they also support handing over the reigns of our military to faith-based groups and outsourcing operational management of the Social Security surplus to a select group of Wall Street day traders."

Around the World Kremlin Defends Sale of Yukos to Itself

"In a truly laissez fair system, the government should be able to do as it pleases, to take over whoever it wants, just like any other company. It's not like it has any inherent advantage in the free market!" shouted President Putin angrily at a throng of reporters, pounding his fist into the podium shortly before unveiling his new economic policy for Russia, tentatively titled the "Five-Year Plan."

Prominent Palestinians Push for Peace

In the wake of the death of PLO President Yasser Arafat and after decades of debate, Palestinian authorities have finally called for an end to the long-standing practice of training first through fifth graders to "kill Jews on sight" as part of the Intifada. Added Prime Minister-elect Mahmoud Abbas, "though we feel our efforts in the past have been justified, we are beginning to suspect that they have created an unsympathetic international climate for our cause."
