OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS!

Lee Edgerton

One of the important contributions that UKAEF makes to the community is providing fellowships to U.K. graduate students. The fact that we had 61 applicants for our fellowships indicates how much these are valued by U.K.'s graduate students and reading their applications is both educational and rewarding. We wish to establish a rotation of members on the selection committee and would very much appreciate your nominating individuals that you believe are able and willing to serve. Self-nominations are welcomed, of course. If you have questions about what is involved, please feel free to contact any of the current committee (John Greenway [engjlg001@uky.edu], Angene Wilson [angenewilson@windstream.net], or Lee Edgerton [lee.edgerton@twc.com]).

Please Note: John Greenway “resigned” from the UKAEF Fellowship Committee after 24 years of service. Every October, Dr. Greenway tackled stacks of applications from the Graduate School—either paper or now electronic--and with quiet consistency mulled their merits and prospects of being outstanding university educators. Choosing two (1996-2001), or three to five students (2001-2020) who deserved special consideration from the pool of remarkable applicants took time and sincere reflection. Dr. Greenway's attitude is one we can all identify: “I remember how much a little encouragement meant to me when I was a graduate student and was pleased to help pass the encouragement I received on to others.” We thank him for his incredible service to UKAEF.
