(a) Present description (including prerequisite(s):

The detailed regional anatomy of the human head and neck is studied by various techniques, the most important of which is dissection. Emphasis is placed on the anatomical relationships with each region. Self-Instruction, 25 hours; laboratory 78 hours. Prereq: ANA 532.

(b) New description:

Study of human gross anatomy and neuroanatomy, with a particular emphasis on functional anatomy and neuroanatomy of the head and neck. Lecture/laboratory course, with dissection being an essential component of the laboratory portion. 140 hrs. Prereq: Admission to the College of Dentistry or some background in biology and consent of instructor.

(c) Prerequisite(s) for course as changed: Admission to the College of Dentistry or some background in biology and consent of instructor.

5. What has prompted this proposal?

For several years, ANA 532 (Systemic Gross Anatomy, 2 cr) and ANA 534 (Anatomy of the Human Head and Neck, 3 cr) have been taught as one course on human anatomy for Dental Students, thus they are being combined. This does not change the content or teaching of anatomy in this course. ANA 538 (Human Neuroanatomy, an Abbreviated Course, 1 cr) had been a largely self-taught course. It is now being incorporated into the Human Anatomy course to better integrate the subject matter taught in anatomy and neuroanatomy. The number of credit hours is the same as the combined credit hours of the existing courses.

6. If there are to be significant changes in the content or teaching objectives of this course, indicate changes: There are no major changes in the teaching objectives other than to provide an improved and unified course for the students by integrating the overlapping material taught in anatomy and neuroanatomy.
