THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Public Administration

Change in Doctoral Program, Public Administration

In the past, students taking PA 752, a core course in the Economics of Policy Analysis have not had the background in economics necessary to teach this course at the desired level. This year incoming student were encouraged to take ECO 601, Advanced Microeconomic Theory. They were much better prepared for PA 752 and the instructor was able to teach PA 752 at an appropriate level for Ph.D. students.
