2013 KWRRI Annual Symposium

Was successfully held Monday, March 9, 2013 at the Marriott Griffin Gate Resort, Lexington, Ky. See the proceedings here.

For other information from website: http://www.uky.edu/waterresources and for further information please email: lindell.ormsbee@uky.edu

Directors Desk -- Lindell Ormsbee

CONGRATULATIONS!

USGS Celebrates 50th Anniversary of Water Resources Research Act
Vital research on water flows from 1964 law. [Visit this site for more information]

Malissa McAllister mmcalister@uky.edu

Information to know:

How to calibrate your conductivity meter. [Watch Here].

Newsletter and more coming in next issue!

USGS RESEARCH GRANT PACKETS AVAILABLE - Jim Kipp

Jim.Kipp@uky.edu

CONGRATULATIONS! DR. LINDELL ORMSBEE FOR THE FOLLOWING AWARDS

On April 10, 2014, Dr. Lindell Ormsbee was inducted into the Virginia Tech Via Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering Academy of Distinguished Alumni. Dr. Ormsbee received his MSCE degree from Virginia Tech in 1979. Dr. Ormsbee was cited for his many contributions to water resources research over a 30 year academic career. The Academy is made up of approximately 100 alumni drawn from a total alumni population of 10,000 engineers.

On April 28, 2014, Dr. Lindell Ormsbee received the Dean’s Award for Excellence in Research by Dean John Walz at the UK College of Engineering annual awards reception. Dr. Ormsbee was recognized for his significant research accomplishments over the last several years. Dr. Ormsbee received his B.S. in civil engineering from the University of Kentucky in 1978, a MSCE from Virginia Tech in 1979, and his Ph.D from Purdue University in 1983. Dr. Ormsbee joined the faculty at UK in 1983, and has served in several research administration positions over the last 30 years, including his current roles as director of the Kentucky Water Resources Research Institute and associate director of the University of Kentucky Superfund Research Center.

Dr. John Walz, Dean of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering
Dr. Lindell Ormsbee, Raymond-Blythe Professor of Civil Engineering
Dr. George Blandford, Chair of the University of Kentucky Department of Civil Engineering