Sanders-Brown Centenarian Award

About the Award
The Sanders-Brown Centenarian Award recognizes Kentuckians who have reached one hundred years of age. This is an opportunity for the Center on Aging Foundation to recognize and honor individuals who exemplify graceful aging and serve as an inspiration to others.

Nominations may come from individuals, organizations or other groups. Couples will be considered separately. All required materials should be submitted in one packet. These materials will not be returned.

Deadline
All nomination materials are due on or before March 9, 2016.

Recognition
The 2016 Sanders-Brown Centenarians will be recognized at two different events in April.

Sunday April 3, 2016 I Know Expo Lexington Center
Thursday April 7, 2016 Center on Aging Foundation Dinner Lexington Center

Qualifications
- Centenarian Award nominees must be at least one hundred years old in 2016.
- Nominees shall reside in Kentucky.

Centenarian Award winners will be asked to provide the following materials for recognition purposes:
  1. Brief biography
  2. Photos for presentation
  3. Signed photo release form
