

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging,
Alzheimer's Association, TJ Samson Hospital
and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm—7pm

TJ Samson Hospital, Glasgow:

2nd floor of T.J. Samson Hospital across from ICU waiting room.

There is a green sign outside the door
(Telemedicine)

Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.

Please call to make your reservation:

Alzheimer's Association

1-800-272-3900

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Trover Clinic-Madisonville and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm – 7pm

Trover RMC

Trover Health System Women Center conference room

2nd floor of the Women's Center

Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.

Please call to make your reservation:

Alzheimer's Association

1-800-272-3900

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Pikeville Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

6:30pm—8pm

Pikeville Medical Center Library

Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.

Please call to make your reservation:

Alzheimer's Association

1-800-272-3900

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Western Baptist Hospital and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm—7pm

Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah

Atrium Classroom

2nd floor of Doctor's Office Building 2 next to the Birthing Center waiting room

*Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.
Please call to make your reservation:
Alzheimer's Association
1-800-272-3900*

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Owensboro Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm—7pm

Owensboro Medical Center:
3rd Floor U of L Classroom "C"
(Take Elevator D to 3rd Floor)

*Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.
Please call to make your reservation:
Alzheimer's Association
1-800-272-3900*

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Murray Calloway County Hospital and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm—7pm

Murray Calloway County Hospital Library

Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.

Please call to make your reservation:

Alzheimer's Association

1-800-272-3900

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, St. Claire Regional Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

6:30pm—8pm

St. Claire Family Medicine Clinic,

Morehead

1st floor Conference Room

316 West Second Street

Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.

Please call to make your reservation:

Alzheimer's Association

1-800-272-3900

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Monroe County Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

5:30pm—7pm

Monroe County Medical Center
Education Conference Room

*Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.
Please call to make your reservation:
Alzheimer's Association
1-800-272-3900*

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |

EDUCATIONAL SERIES FOR FAMILY MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THOSE WITH MEMORY DISORDERS

About this Program:

The University of Kentucky Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, partnering with the Alzheimer's Association and KY Telecare, provides ongoing educational programs, caregiver trainings and Q & A sessions for the family members of persons diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease and related disorders in your local community. Using the interactive Telemedicine system, this is part of our effort to bring the support services of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging to persons living outside the greater Lexington area.

This program is put together through purely voluntary efforts by the staff of the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, UK Alzheimer's Disease Center, Alzheimer's Association, and KY Telecare. We know that there is a tremendous need across the state for such resources designed to improve quality of life for the hundreds of thousands persons in Kentucky whose lives have been touched by Alzheimer's disease!

Questions?
(859) 257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Harlan ARH Hospital, UK Center for Excellence and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network presents:

Alzheimer's Disease Research Update:
Get updates on clinical trials, advances in diagnostic criteria and prevention, hopes for a cure, and learn of funding strategies

Join Us!

Thursday, January 27, 2011

6:30pm—8pm

Appalachian Regional Healthcare - Harlan Cafeteria Video Conference Room

Or

UK Center for Rural Health- Hazard: Room 329

*Registration is mandatory for this FREE event.
Please call to make your reservation:
Alzheimer's Association
1-800-272-3900*

Upcoming Topics

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| April 21, 2011 | Importance of caring for the caregiver;
Experiencing loss and grief as a caregiver |
| July 21, 2011 | Understanding Alzheimer's disease and related Dementias |
| October 20, 2011 | Understanding behaviors related to Alzheimer's disease |