UK PARTNER EDUCATION ABROAD PROGRAMS CONT.

Celtic Blue: Trinity College - Dublin (Arcadia)
Dublin, Ireland

Language Req: None
Class Standing: Sophomore & Above
Minimum GPA: 2.5
Term Offered: Fall, Spring

History courses available in this program include Europe, 1500-1700: Power and Belief, Britain C.1272-1460: Kingship and Warfare, Gaelic Revival and English Pale, Ireland in the Twentieth Century and more.

Available courses include History of Parliament, The Industrial Revo-

Charles University—History, Culture & Politics (ISA)
Prague, Czech Republic

Language Req: None
Class Standing: Sophomore & Above
Minimum GPA: 2.5
Term Offered: Fall, Spring

Available courses include History of Jewish Communities in Central Europe, History of the Czech Region, World War II & New Europe, Communism & Religion: Past & Present, and more.

UK Education Abroad programs for Students of History

UK Education Abroad offers a variety of programs that allow you to study history in an international setting. Immense yourself in another culture, expand your knowledge of history, and explore what the world has to offer with any one of the exciting opportunities available to you!

Why study abroad?

Education abroad can help you…

• Globalize your world view
• Expand your intercultural understanding and problem-solving skills
• Prepare to work in an increasingly diverse and international workplace
• Gain new insight into the world and yourself
• Increase your language skills

As a student of history, the best way to increase your knowledge of the field is to study in various contexts. There is no substitute for the experience that a semester, year, or summer abroad will afford you.

Do I have to speak a foreign language to study abroad?

Absolutely not. There are plenty of programs in English-speaking countries. Furthermore, students can find history courses taught in English in practically every country. Of course, there are also plenty of excellent programs for students who prefer to study history in a foreign language or to study a foreign language while abroad.

Where can I study abroad?

History is a global enterprise. From the coast of Australia to historic Istanbul, Turkey, UK offers a wide array of programs that allow students to take history courses in all corners of the world.

What are my next steps?

Attend a First Step Session.

Find out what you can study abroad and where, and ask questions about the application process, financial aid and scholarships, etc. First Step Sessions are held on Mondays and Tuesdays from 4-5p.m. and Wednesdays and Thursdays from 3-4p.m. in 207 Bradley Hall.

Explore the programs available.

Search online or visit the Education Abroad Resource Center in 315 Bradley Hall.

Talk to an Education Abroad advisor.

Each UK Education Abroad advisor has expertise in specific majors and geographic regions. Check the website and make an appointment with the advisor who is an expert on the programs in which you are interested.
above. Consider the following important questions.

When can I study abroad?

- Many students choose to study abroad during the Summer or Winter sessions. There are two summer sessions available: Summer I and Summer II. Summer I programs typically begin in late May and end in early June, while Summer II programs tend to start late in the summer and end in late July or early August. The Winter Intersession occurs between the fall and spring semesters.

Where will I live?

- Most programs provide accommodation for students in residence halls and foreign student dormitories. Some programs, particularly ones that focus on language immersion, provide the option of living with a local family.

What is the cost of the program?

- Programs vary in cost depending on the type of program, duration, and provider. Please be sure to familiarize yourself with the costs of the programs you are considering.

How do I choose the education abroad program that is right for me?

- Look through the information in this advice for an overview of the programs available for UK students. You can also find more detailed descriptions online. To get started, it is important to consider the type of program you would like to attend, descriptions of which are embedded course, which is a class taught at UK with an international component during spring break or early summer.

Because many foreign institutions follow different academic calendars, it is important for students to consider the specific dates of the program far in advance. For example, many "fall" semester programs in the Northern Hemisphere may run from July to November and from February to June during the American spring semester.

Similarly, it may be difficult for students to study at some European institutions for the fall semester. Final exams may be scheduled in early January, and many programs do not make allowances for US students. Please be sure you consider this issue in advance.

Who funds the program?

- Many students choose to study abroad during the Summer or Winter sessions. There are two summer sessions available: Summer I and Summer II. Summer I programs typically begin in late May and end in early June, while Summer II programs tend to start late in the summer and end in late July or early August. The Winter Intersession occurs between the fall and spring semesters.

When should I study abroad?

- Most UK students study abroad during their sophomore or junior years. However, there are programs available for freshmen and senior students as well.

Another important decision to make is what is type of year to study abroad. Programs are available for one semester, fall and spring semesters, Winter Intersession, and the Summer sessions. It is also possible to take a spring-embedded course, which is a class taught at UK with an international component during spring break or early summer.

How do I apply for a program?

- To get started, it is important to consider the type of program you would like to attend, descriptions of which are available online. To get started, it is important to consider the type of program you would like to attend, descriptions of which are available online.