

---

INT

International Studies

---

INT 350 SPECIAL TOPICS IN INTERNATIONAL STUDIES (Subtitle required). (1-3)

Course will focus on selected topics drawn from various areas of International Studies taught by faculty members with special interests and competence. The course is variable credit and may be repeated up to a maximum of 12 credits under different subtitles.

INT 399 INTERNSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL STUDIES. (1-3)

An individual community-based or field-based experience and/or internship with a corporation or government institution with a global/international focus under the supervision of a faculty member. This course is designed for undergraduates to gain first-hand experience of preprofessional positions such as internships, cooperative education, or business related experience in an area of international expertise. INT 399 may count toward either the Thematic Concentration or World Area of IS major, but not both. May count for IS minor. To take the course, the student must have approval of the program director, negotiate a learning contract with an academic supervisor, and provide the program with a report on the internship. Pass-fail only. May be repeated for a maximum of 9 credits. Prereq: Approval by the International Studies Director.

INT 495 CAPSTONE SEMINAR FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDIES MAJORS (Subtitle required). (3)

In this capstone seminar students have to write a 20-25 page research paper. Each seminar has a subtitle of a broad theme to allow students working in different world areas and thematic concentrations to work on their projects. The class works both as a seminar where students learn different theoretical and methodological approaches to a broad topic and as a space where they learn to write their own research paper. Students will be required to present their paper in a power point presentation or another type of creative project. Prereq: Senior status. This course is a Graduation Composition and Communication Requirement (GCCR) course in certain programs, and hence is not likely to be eligible for automatic transfer credit to UK.