LAW 963 JOURNAL OF NATURAL RESOURCES AND ENVIRONMENTAL LAW. (3) The course required of all members of the Journal of Natural Resources and Environmental Law offers experience in legal writing, editing and the process of publication of a scholarly journal. Pass-fail only.

LAW 964 JUDICIAL EXTERNSHIP. (2) Clerking for trial and appellate judges. May be repeated once with permission of the Dean. Offered on a pass/fail basis.

LAW 965 PROSECUTORIAL EXTERNSHIP. (2) Supervised handling of criminal cases under the limited practice rule of the Kentucky Supreme Court. Instruction and practice in investigation, preparation and trial advocacy. Open to third year students only. May be repeated once with permission of the Dean. Offered on a pass/fail basis.

LAW 966 MOOT COURT NATIONAL TEAM. (2) Participation on Moot Court National Team. National Team members should sign for this course instead of 961 in their third year.

LAW 967 PRISON EXTERNSHIP. (2) Supervised handling of cases for prisoners at the Federal Correctional Institution; instruction and practice in interviewing, counseling, negotiation, and study of applicable substantive law. Offered on a pass/fail basis only. Prereq: Completion of all first-year courses.

LAW 970 U.S. ATTORNEY APPELLATE DIVISION EXTERNSHIP. (2) The goals of this externship are to develop practical appellate litigation skills, especially appellate brief-writing skills; to give practical experience in researching legal topics; and to increase understanding of the appellate process, especially as it relates to federal government litigation and the rules of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Students will be supervised by attorneys in the U.S. Attorney’s Office Appellate Section. Students in this externship are not required to seek admission under the student practice rules; however, students are subject to a background check by the Federal Bureau of Investigation prior to final enrollment in the course. Prereq: Status as a second- or third-year student at the College of Law.

LAW 971 DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ADVOCACY INNOCENCE PROJECT EXTERNSHIP. (2-3) Students will work under the supervision of field instructors and mentors on investigating claims of innocence by inmates. The course includes a classroom component. May be repeated to a maximum of 4 credit hours. Prereq: Completion of 2nd year of law school.

LAW 972 LEGAL CLINIC. (2-3) This is a graded two or three hours practice-oriented course that provides third year students with a unique opportunity to represent low income elderly individuals on a variety of legal matters. Under the Kentucky Supreme Court’s limited practice rule, and with the supervision of the clinical director, students will represent clients in negotiations with federal and state agencies, in administrative hearings or in court procedures. Students will also interview clients, draft legal documents, file pleadings, and conduct discovery.

LAW 973 CHILDREN’S LAW CENTER EXTERNSHIP. (2) This externship develops students’ litigation, counseling and research skills under the supervision of the Litigation Director of the Lexington office of the Children’s Law Center, a 20-year-old foundation based in Northern Kentucky. The Center provides direct representation to children involved in high conflict custody cases, to children who are victims of sexual abuse and must be a witness in criminal proceedings, to children with disabilities in educational matters, and children who are homeless or have other dependency issues. Students will assist their supervising attorney on these cases. Students will be expected to work at least 100 hours during the semester, in addition to classroom time discussing substantive law, roundtable discussions and case status conferences. Enrollment is limited to three students. This externship is only open to students who are eligible for admission under the limited practice rule.
LAW 974 PUBLIC DEFENDER EXTERNSHIP. (2)
The goals of this externship course are to develop practical litigation skills; to give practical experience in researching legal topics; and to increase understanding of the criminal litigation process, especially as it relates to how lawyers representing the defendants in that system develop the case, identify a strategy for litigating the case, and implement that strategy. Students will be expected to complete 100 hours of work under the supervision of the Lexington Department of Public Advocacy Directing Attorney, in addition to a classroom component taught at the College of Law. Admission under the limited practice rule is not required but is strongly encouraged; lack of admission will limit the student’s ability to fully participate in externship opportunities. The expectation is that a very significant proportion of student work will be accomplished under the limited practice rule in cases before the Family Court and Juvenile Court, and in District Court misdemeanor courses. Prereq: Evidence (LAW 890).

LAW 975 UK HEALTHCARE EXTERNSHIP. (2)
Students will develop practical interviewing, counseling, strategic legal planning, litigation, and legal research skills as interns in the University of Kentucky Healthcare (University Hospital) Risk Management Office, under the supervision of the Risk Management Director. Students will be expected to complete legal research and writing projects, attend legal proceedings and hospital committee meetings, and review clinical investigations. Each student must sign a confidentiality agreement covering, among other things, compliance with all statutory requirements governing patient confidentiality, including HIPAA, and an anticipatory conflict agreement, which will include an agreement that the participant will be bound by SCR 3.130(1.9) and SCR 3.130(1.10) as if the participant were a practicing attorney at the time of the internship. Prereq: Second-semester, second-year status; Evidence (LAW 890); transfer students must have completed Torts (LAW 805). Recommended: Bioethical Issues and the Law (LAW 831), Medical Liability (LAW 832).

LAW 976 KENTUCKY ENERGY AND ENVIRONMENT CABINET EXTERNSHIP. (2)
The goals of this Externship course are to develop an understanding of legal and policy issues arising from energy development and environmental protection in Kentucky; to assess the legal implications of emerging energy strategies, including carbon sequestration from coal gasification; and to increase understanding of the role played by attorneys in the Energy and Environment Cabinet. Prereq: LAW 898 or consent of instructor.

LAW 981 LONDON LAW: BRITISH LEGAL METHODS/SEMINAR. (3)
Students will be assigned a London barrister and will spend each Monday accompanying that barrister to court. They will maintain journals describing their experiences and will meet individually throughout the semester with their faculty supervisor. In addition, they will participate in a weekly seminar class, in which they will discuss legal ethics issues, British legal research methods, and the training of barristers and solicitors. The seminar will also feature guest speakers from the British legal profession, and students will take field trips to various local legal institutions. Later in the semester, students will give oral presentations and submit seminar papers of legal topics growing out of their experiences. Successful completion of these requirements will result in a grade of “Pass”. Enrollment in the British Legal Methods/Seminar is limited to 16 students per semester. Students participating in the British Legal Methods/Seminar are required to enroll in the one credit English Legal System course.

LAW 982 LONDON LAW: ENGLISH LEGAL SYSTEM. (1)
This course will provide an introduction to the history and practice of the English legal system. The course will deal with the following topics: court structure, costs and legal aid, the judiciary, criminal procedure, the legal profession, structure of the U.K. Constitution, human rights in the U.K., juries, and the doctrine of precedent.

LAW 983 LONDON LAW: LAW OF THE EUROPEAN UNION. (3)
The purpose of this course is to provide an introduction to the European Union Law. The course is divided into three parts, which examine the constitutional framework and constitutional principles of the EU, and some areas of substantive law. The first part of the course (constitutional framework) will consider the historical development of the EU, its institutions and law-making processes. The second part will examine the constitutional principles governing the EU, such as the supremacy of EU law over national law and mechanisms for its enforcement in the Member States (direct effect and liability of Member States for breach of the Community law). The third part will deal with some substantive areas of Union law, such as free movement of goods, persons, establishment and services, anti-discrimination, and antitrust, as well as the protection of fundamental rights.
LAW 984 LONDON LAW: INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS. (3)
This course will introduce the student to the established and developing legal rules, procedures, and enforcement mechanisms governing the protection of international human rights. It will address both liberal western and developing world notions of human rights as well as highlight recent examples of human rights controversies in all the regions of the world. Special emphasis will be placed on the international human rights of women.

LAW 985 LONDON LAW: CROSS-BORDER FINANCE. (3)
This will be an introductory course providing students with an understanding of how corporate finance transactions such as syndicated loans, derivatives, repos and securities lending are structured, negotiated and documented. Students will gain experience parsing and analyzing market standard documentation. It is intended for students that have an interest in a transactional practice, but little experience. After the course, students will appreciate how each of these transactions can be broken into common building blocks that most finance transactions share. Although large cross-border finance transactions will be studied, the concepts and principles discussed are applicable to any transactional practice.

LAW 986 LONDON LAW: THE GLOBAL FINANCIAL CRISIS. (3)
This course will discuss the origins of the financial crisis, focusing primarily on the United States and the European Union. In particular, the efforts of regulators and policymakers will be explored in detail. Students will also explore the importance of international harmonization of regulatory regimes as capital markets become increasingly global. Finally, the course will discuss key principles and goals that should be guiding regulators and policymakers in their decisions.

#LAW 987 LONDON LAW: COMPARATIVE EMPLOYMENT LAW. (3)
This course will include a study of regulation of individual employee rights in the workplace, as distinguished from the regulation of collective bargaining between management and unions. Coverage will include laws governing wages and hours, family and medical leave, fringe benefits, employee privacy, and protection from arbitrary firing. The course will compare approaches to these issues taken by the United States and selected countries. This course may be taken instead of, but not in addition to, LAW 912: Employment Law.

#LAW 988 LONDON LAW: COMPARATIVE LABOR LAW.
This course will survey the legal regulation of union-employer-employee relationships. Subjects include employee organizational rights, union collective action, the duty to bargain, enforcement of the collective bargaining agreement, grievance procedures and arbitration, and the union’s duty of fair representation. The course will compare approaches to these issues taken by the United States and selected other countries. This course may be taken instead of, but not in addition to, LAW 910: Labor Law.

#LAW 989 LONDON LAW: INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY. (3)
This course will examine issues related to the international protection of intellectual property. The course will survey various international agreements and treaties for copyright, patent, and trademark, focusing on the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property (TRIPs) of the World Trade Organization. In addition to exploring the basic concepts of territoriality, national treatment, and minimum standards, we will consider political and policy concerns related to efforts to secure and strengthen protection of intellectual property around the world.

#LAW 990 LONDON LAW: LAW AND HUMAN BEHAVIOR. (3)
This course will explore the implications of recent social science research on human behavior for law and legal decision-making. In the past few decades, new discoveries in psychology, cognitive science, neuroscience, and economics have challenged fundamental ideas about how people think and decide. We will consider their application to a variety of areas of the law including criminal and civil law and jury decision-making. Topics will include happiness and hedonic psychology, the role of emotion and reason in decision-making, creativity, risk assessment, and free will. These topics will be discussed in comparative perspective – e.g., recent efforts by the governments of France and Bhutan to encourage Gross Domestic Happiness. Students will write a series of short (2-3 page) analysis papers.
