ALE-8-ONE BOTTLING COMPANY GIFT AND PLEDGE

Recommendation: that the Board of Trustees accept a gift of $20,000 and a pledge of $80,000 from Ale-8-One Bottling Company of Winchester, Kentucky, to support the Lexington Community College's Winchester building fund.

Background: Ale-8-One President and CEO Frank A. Rogers and his family own the company, which has been located in Winchester since 1926. The gift is made in memory of Carolyn A. White, an Ale-8-One employee who was a vocal supporter of the Lexington Community College (LCC) branch in Winchester. A classroom in the new building will be named in her honor. The LCC classroom building will be located on a 20-acre tract in the Winchester-Clark County industrial park.
