Miscellaneous Field Work Works-Cited Documentation Styles (for source types not included in the Penguin Handbook)

Sources:

Interviews:

Citations for interviews generally follow the same pattern:

Last Name, First Name. Interview Type. Date of interview.

Examples:

Personal Interview:

Telephone Interview:

E-mail Interview:
Brown, Charlie. E-mail interview. 20 July 2006.

Personally Conducted Questionnaires and Surveys:

The citations for questionnaires and surveys begin with the creator’s name (last name, first name) and are followed by the either the word “questionnaire” or “survey.” You can give the location where you conducted your questionnaire or survey, and this step is especially important if you think the reader should understand where the respondents came from. Finally, put the date or range of dates when you conducted the questionnaire or survey.

Examples:

Questionnaire:

Survey:

In the above example, the date range (15-20 July 2006) suggests that the survey was conducted over this range of days.
