The Kentucky Diversity Film Festival (KYDFF) will feature professionally-made documentaries that highlight the rich diversity in our Commonwealth. In addition, the festival will screen several student films that also speak to diversity in some way. Students will submit short films (20 minutes or less) that they have created, and the Diversity and Inclusion Committee of the College of Communication and Information will evaluate the student films, choosing three for awards: first, second, and third place.

Students' films will be evaluated in five areas: topicality, cinematography and audio, originality, editing, and overall quality. Films will be rated in each area. The films with the highest scores will win the competition.

To promote and disseminate research, Honor students who participate and share their research at the College’s Annual Research Day will be honored. The contributions of young public health practitioners are also recognized by the Promising Practitioner Award.

Overall, the purpose of this process is to celebrate diversity and inclusion on the University campus and across the Commonwealth.

To recognize outstanding senior each academic year in the School of Information Sciences, the School of Information Sciences offers the Outstanding Senior Award. The awardee will be selected by the faculty in each of the five concentration areas.

Honor undergraduates for outstanding Academic Performance and Professionalization, the School of Information Sciences offers the Outstanding Undergraduate Student Award. The awardee will be selected by the faculty in each of the five concentration areas.

Mentor Support Award

The Mentor Support Award goes to students who serve as mentors in the GSC Mentorship Program. Compensation for mentors in the GSC Mentorship Program.

Mentors for this program are selected based on a rubric that takes into account both merit and need (academic excellence permeated through GPA, awards, professional aspirations; positioning within a traditionally underrepresented and under-supported group that means that they could use a strong mentor).

Mentors with One Mentee: $145 (6)=$870
Mentors with Two Mentees: $290 (7)=$2030
