General Information about the University

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA):

In carrying out their assigned responsibilities, many offices at the University of Kentucky collect and maintain information about students. Although these records belong to the university, both university policy and federal law accord students a number of rights concerning these records.

The Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, commonly known as FERPA, establishes the regulations regarding access to and disclosure of student records.

To fulfill FERPA requirements, the university has established Policies on Student Records. These policies outline a student's rights regarding his/her records, where records about the student may be kept and maintained, what kinds of information are in those records, the conditions under which the student or anyone else may have access to information in those records, and what action a student can take if it is believed that the information in his/her record is inaccurate or that the student's rights have been compromised. The policies on student records are on the web at http://www.uky.edu/registrar/FERPA-privacy

For more information or to receive a copy, contact the Office of the Registrar, 10 Funkhouser Building

Because the university does not maintain all student records in one location, each office maintaining student records is required by the University of Kentucky to develop a written statement of policies and procedures for handling those records; these statements are available for students to examine in the respective offices. In addition, copies of the university's policies on student records and the pertinent federal law, FERPA, are posted in the Office of the Registrar's locations and are also available in all Deans' offices (see school/college contact information).

Health and Safety

Campus Safety and Security:
The University of Kentucky Police Department reports all crimes to the Kentucky State Police and Federal Bureau of Investigation using the National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS).

These statistics include additions to what is required by the Federal Campus Crime and Security (Clery) Act and Kentucky Campus and Crime Security (Minger) Act. Detailed information concerning the UK Police Department, an online Daily Crime Report, and the many safety and security programs we have to offer can be found at http://www.uky.edu/police. Feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns by calling (859)257-8573

Should you have any questions concerning the Federal Campus Crime and Security (Clery) Act or Kentucky Campus and Crime Security (Minger) Act Annual Reports, please call the University of Kentucky Office of Emergency Management at (859)257-9655 or visit their website, http://www.uky.edu/EM

Vaccination Policy:
The University of Kentucky’s policies on immunizations for new students can be found on the University Health Service website: http://ukhealthcare.uky.edu/university-health-service/student-health/vaccinations. Contact them at 859-323-4636.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention:

State Authorization
Per state laws, distance education courses and programs must be legally authorized in a state prior to offering courses or programs to students residing there. In addition, programs in fields regulated by licensure or certification may not meet the educational requirements for licensure in certain states. Therefore, program availability varies by state.

Students should check UK Online to determine if a distance education program at the University of Kentucky is available in their state of residence or meets the educational requirements for licensure in their state. All distance education students should keep in mind that relocating during the course of a program to another state could impact whether that student can continue in the course and/or meet the eligibility requirements of that state.
