

FACT BOOKLET

2001-2002

January 2002

I am pleased to provide you with this fact booklet, which contains a profile of current facts about admissions, enrollment, degrees conferred, faculty salaries, grant and contract awards, research expenditures, and the status of new facilities, among others; a brief summary of the University's 2001-2002 Operating and Capital Budget; and information about our administrative organization, history and benchmark institutions.

As President of the University of Kentucky, I am deeply appreciative of the support of the Governor and the General Assembly in our quest to become a top-20 public research university. The highly successful Research Challenge Trust Fund program, coupled with the success of our first ever, major fund-raising campaign – A Call to Greatness – has positioned the University well in its efforts to achieve this quest.

This fact booklet will assist you in making future decisions by enhancing your knowledge and understanding of the University of Kentucky. In fall 2001 enrollment in the University System increased by 3.9 percent and at Lexington Community College (LCC) by 8.0 percent. I am especially pleased that we were able to increase graduate enrollment by nearly 12 percent through the creative Graduate Incentive Free Tuition (GIFT) Program, designed to encourage local residents to begin study at the graduate level, and the Kentucky Graduate Scholarships Program, designed to recruit and enroll highly qualified graduate students from out-of-state. Additionally, we enrolled over 3,000 freshmen in the University System, and we must now work diligently to ensure their academic success. We are focusing on improving retention and graduation rates and increasing the number of degrees awarded each year. Furthermore, we are already looking forward to next year, when we expect a high quality incoming freshman class that reflects the results of the new Governor's Scholars Scholarship Program and the Legacy Tuition Program.

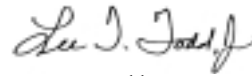

In 2000-2001 the faculty and staff continued to set new records for the amount of grants and contracts awarded, achieving an increase of 16.7 percent over the previous year. Research and development expenditures exceeded $200 million for the first time. And yet, faculty salaries fell for the second year in a row in comparison to our new benchmark institutions – from 6.5 percent below the median in 1998-1999 to 12.2 percent below the median in 2000-2001. This is a disturbing trend that we must reverse in order to achieve our goal of being a top 20 public research university.

The University is fortunate to have several new, much-needed facilities scheduled to come on-line in 2002. The completion of the Aging/Allied Health building, the Agricultural Plant Sciences facility, and the Mechanical Engineering building will serve to enhance greatly our instruction and research missions; the Women's Cancer Center and the Primary Care Center will increase our capacity to serve the healthcare needs of Kentuckians; and the Seaton Center Addition/Renovation will support the health and recreation needs of our students. The groundbreaking for the Biomedical Sciences Research Building is scheduled for January of this year. This modern, state-of-the-art research facility, in addition to the Morgan Building Addition and the Pharmacy Building Expansion, our top two priorities in the University's Capital Request, will provide space critical to our ability to achieve top 20 public research university status.

The University of Kentucky is reaching out like never before to extend its rich store of knowledge, creativity and other resources to the citizens, businesses, organizations, and agencies that comprise our campus — the Commonwealth of Kentucky. As Kentucky's premiere, land-grant research institution, we are committed to a better life for all Kentuckians — an educated citizenry, a thriving economy, a safe environment, a healthy population, and a culturally enriched society. These are the outcomes to which we aspire and the achievements by which we will evaluate our success. We ask that you join us in our quest, in our dedication, and in this commitment.

Sincerely,

UK VALUES

The values of the University guide our decisions and behavior. We value:

- The background of the slide features a large, light blue watermark of the University of Kentucky seal. The seal is circular with a rope-like border. Inside the border, the words "UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY" are written in an arc at the top, and "1865" is at the bottom. The center of the seal depicts two figures, a man and a woman, standing and facing each other. The man is on the left, wearing a suit and holding a book. The woman is on the right, wearing a dress and holding a book. The seal is partially obscured by the text and bullet points.
