

Vice President for Student Affairs

Sep. 28, 2015

Colleagues and Students,

This week, Vice President of Student Affairs, Dr. Robert Mock, will begin his tenure as President of Johnson and Wales University, Charlotte. The UK family wishes Robert, his family and Johnson and Wales University the best of luck in this new chapter.

To continue our work and provide a quality student experience, we are pleased to announce that Dean of Students Victor Hazard has agreed to serve as our Interim Vice President of Student Affairs in this transition period. This is the second time he will serve in this capacity, having previously served as Interim Vice President prior to Dr. Mock's arrival.

Dean Hazard has a long career in higher education that extends across Arkansas, Louisiana, and Kentucky. His career at the University of Kentucky began in 1988, when he became the Associate Dean of Students. In fall of 2000, he was named Dean of Students, and was promoted to Associate Vice President of Student Affairs/Dean of Students in 2003. His wife, Deborah, also works for the University.

As Dean of Students, Victor has responsibility for a large professional, student, and support staff within the Division, which includes: Residence Life, the Counseling Center, Violence Intervention and Prevention Center, Disability Resource Center, Office of Student Conduct, Greek Affairs, the Office of Student Involvement, and the Office of New Student and Family Programs, among others.

We are confident in Victor's leadership in this transition period. He is distinctly qualified for this important role. His abiding commitment to the success of our students and campus is readily apparent in everything that he does. Please join us in congratulating and thanking Victor for his willingness to serve.

Sincerely,

Eli Capilouto
President
