

A Message from University of Kentucky

PROVOST DAVID W. BLACKWELL

Colleagues,

This email serves as a reminder of the changes that were made to the spring 2021 academic calendar. All changes were vetted and approved by the UK Senate Council.

These changes include:

- March 26: academic holiday (instead of a spring break week)
- “Dead Week” (the week prior to final examinations):
 - May 3-5 (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday): classes will meet
 - May 6-7 (Thursday, Friday): classes will not meet (these are designated as reading days, a time for students to prepare for final exams)

A full overview of the spring 2021 academic calendar was recently published on UKNow.

Should you have any questions, please contact the Office of the Registrar.

Regards,
David W. Blackwell
