1. How does this course provide for timely and appropriate interaction between students and faculty and among students? Does the course syllabus conform to University Senate Syllabus Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations?

2. How do you ensure that the experience for a DL student is comparable to that of a classroom-based student’s experience? Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc.

3. How is the integrity of student work ensured? Please speak to aspects such as password-protected course portals, proctors for exams at interactive video sites; academic offense policy; etc.

4. Will offering this course via DL result in at least 25% or at least 50% (based on total credit hours required for completion) of a degree program being offered via any form of DL, as defined above?
   If yes, which percentage, and which program(s)?

5. How are students taking the course via DL assured of equivalent access to student services, similar to that of a student taking the class in a traditional classroom setting?

6. How do course requirements ensure that students make appropriate use of learning resources?

7. Please explain specifically how access is provided to laboratories, facilities, and equipment appropriate to the course or program.

8. How are students informed of procedures for resolving technical complaints? Does the syllabus list the entities available to offer technical help with the delivery and/or receipt of the course, such as the Information Technology Customer Service Center (http://www.uky.edu/UKIT/)?

9. Will the course be delivered via services available through the Distance Learning Program (DLP) and the Academic Technology Group (ATL)?  NO
   If no, explain how student enrolled in DL courses are able to use the technology employed, as well as how students will be provided with assistance in using said technology.

10. Does the syllabus contain all the required components?  NO
11.I, the instructor of record, have read and understood all of the university-level statements regarding DL.

   a. Check box if changed to 400G or 500.

   If changed to 400G- or 500-level course you must send in a syllabus and you must include the differentiation between undergraduate and graduate students by: (i) requiring additional assignments by the graduate students; and/or (ii) establishing different grading criteria in the course for graduate students. (See SR 3.1.4.)

1. See comment description regarding minor course change. Minor changes are sent directly from dean’s office to Senate Council Chair. If Chair deems the change as “not minor,” the form will be sent to appropriate academic Council for normal processing and contact person is informed.
2. Courses are typically made effective for the semester following approval. No course will be made effective until all approvals are received.
3. Signature of the chair of the cross-listing department is required on the Signature Routing Log.
4. Removing a cross-listing does not drop the other course – it merely unlinks the two courses.
5. Generally, undergraduate courses are developed such that one semester hr of credit represents 1 hr of classroom meeting per wk for a semester, exclusive of any lab meeting. Lab meeting generally represents at least two hrs per wk for a semester for 1 credit hour. (See SR 5.2.1.)
6. You must also submit the Distance Learning Form in order for the course to be considered for DL delivery.
7. In order to change a program, a program change form must also be submitted.
A-H 342
American Art and Visual Studies:
African American Art and Artists

Note: This course fulfills an art history requirement for students majoring in arts administration, studio art, and art history & visual studies. Students who wish to have this course meet a requirement for a minor in African and African American Studies should ask the instructor to help them with a petition.

Course Description:

Artists of African descent have contributed to the visual culture and aesthetic heritage of North America. This course examines the range of artworks created by African Americans over the last three centuries, including paintings and sculpture by 19th and 20th century artists. Late 20th century art by African Americans is studied in the political and social context of the Civil Rights Movement, and as new formulations of ethnic identity in the United States. The position of African Americans in the contemporary art world is juxtaposed to the roles artists who have emigrated from the African continent over the last few decades.

Prerequisites:
None

Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to:
1. describe a work of by an African American artist and analyze its formal features
2. identify a selection of artworks by leading African American artists, noting their patrons, titles and dates
3. compare and contrast art from different time periods as expressions of divergent social and philosophical positions
4. summarize and interpret scholarly sources on the experiences of African Americans
5. evaluate sources of information on art, artists, and cultures
6. recognize the roles of both language and images to communicate ideas

Course Objectives:

Students will gain a fundamental understanding of developments in African American art history, and will be able to describe the contributions of African Americans to the art of the United States.

Required Materials:

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE ACTIVITIES AND ASSIGNMENTS

Essay #1 (10 points)

Look at ONE of the comparisons between an African work and an African American work presented by Robert F. Thompson (in Flash of the Spirit: African and Afro-American Art and Philosophy, New York: Vintage, 1984, available on reserve). In a one page paper, explain why you believe that you agree or disagree with his premise that the African work inspired the African American one. Rubrics will be given in class.

Essay #2 (10 points)

Read Michael Harris’ analysis of Kerry Marshall or Kara Walker (in Colored Pictures, Chapel Hill: University of North Carolina Press, 2003). In a one page paper, explain why you agree or disagree with his assessment of these artists’ work.

Identification Test #1 (15 points)

This test covers artists from the 18th to the mid-20th century. A study guide will be distributed in class.

Identification Test #2 (15 points)

This test covers artists of the 20th century. A study guide will be distributed in class.

University of Kentucky Art Museum Assignment (20 points total)

- Proposal (5 points)
- Presentation Outline (10 points)
- Presentation (5 points)

For your Proposal, choose an art work (either by an African or an African American artist) at the UK Art Museum. Explain your choice in a short paragraph, then describe at least two print sources that will provide your with basic information on this object.

For your Presentation Outline, prepare a list of questions, activities and observations to share with a group of docents (volunteer guides) at the museum. Give your presentation a goal, and specify what you want the docents to learn, to see, or to be able to share with visitors. Attach an annotated bibliography to your paper.

For your Presentation, students in the class will pose as docents. We will meet at the museum, and you will give us your lesson. Further descriptions of all phases of the assignment will be given in class.

Lyric Theater Assignment (20 points total)

- Proposal (5 points)
- Presentation Outline (10 points)
- Presentation (5 points)

For your Proposal, choose an art work at the Lyric Theater in downtown Lexington. Explain your choice in a short paragraph, then describe at least two print sources that will provide your with basic information on this object.

For your Presentation Outline, prepare a list of questions, activities and observations to share with a group of high school students at the museum. Give your presentation a goal, and specify what you want the docents to learn, to see, or to be able to share with visitors. Attach an annotated bibliography to your paper.

For your Presentation, students in the class will pose as high school students. We will meet at the museum, and you will give us your lesson. Further descriptions of all phases of the assignment will be given in class.
CLASS PARTICIPATION (10 points)

There will be about twenty unannounced activities, questions, debates or homework assignments that will allow you to turn in a short response written in class, or to provide a comment that will be recorded. These will determine your class attendance grade. Please see the statement on attendance policy below.

Course Grading (Grading Scale)
90 – 100% = A
80-89% = B
70-79% = C
60-69% = D
less than 60% = E

Final Exam Information

Mid-term Grades
Mid-term grades will be posted in myUK by the deadline established in the Academic Calendar (http://www.uky.edu/Registrar/AcademicCalendar.htm)

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Policy on Accommodations due to Disabilities
If you have a documented disability that requires academic accommodations, please see me as soon as possible during scheduled office hours. In order to receive accommodations in this course, you must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center (for coordination of campus disability services available to students with disabilities, see Room 2, Alumni Gym, 257-2754, email address: jkarnes@email.uky.edu).

Policy on Plagiarism
Taken from Part II of Student Rights and Responsibilities 6.3.1; see http://www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/Code/part2.html

...all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about a question of plagiarism involving their work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission.

When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording or anything else from another source without appropriate acknowledgment of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism.

Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else's work, whether it be published article, chapter of a book, a paper from a friend or some file, or whatever. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work which a student submits as his/her own, whoever that other person may be. Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student, and the student alone.

When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources or information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where and how he/she has employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Plagiarism also includes making simple changes while leaving the organization, content and phraseology intact. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain.

Excused Absences
Students need to notify the professor of absences prior to class when possible. S.R. 5.2.4.2 defines the following as acceptable reasons for excused absences: (a) serious illness, (b) illness or death of family member, (c) University-related trips, (d) major religious holidays, and (e) other circumstances found to fit “reasonable cause for nonattendance” by the professor.

Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Information regarding dates of major religious holidays may be obtained through the religious liaison, Mr. Jake Karnes (859-257-2754).

Students are expected to withdraw from the class if more than 20% of the classes scheduled for the semester are missed (excused or unexcused) per university policy.

COURSE POLICIES

Policy on Attendance and Class Decorum

You are expected to attend every class. Please inform the professor via email or phone if you need to miss a class session due to illness, accident, dangerous weather conditions, jury duty, or any other valid excuse, and she can suggest activities and assignments to compensate for those absences. You do not need to provide written documentation for the absence, but you will need to provide written documentation of the make-up assignment. Students with an excused absence have one week following the absence to contact the professor regarding missed graded work.

Also notify the professor if one of these valid reasons causes you to arrive late or leave early; otherwise you may be marked as absent. While you are encouraged to leave the classroom for an infusion of light and oxygen if you are falling asleep, please try to minimize your movements in and out of the classroom during class.

Because we have the opportunity in the classroom to work together to evaluate sophisticated images, and because you must focus upon recording and understanding complex ideas, please turn off all cell phones, laptops, and other electronic devices during class. If you need to make audio recordings of lectures and discussions, please let the professor and your fellow students know that you will be doing so.

You may consume drinks and snacks as long as you thoroughly clean up any spills, and as long as they do not distract other students.

Disclaimers and Special Requests

The sequence of lectures, material covered, and assignments listed in this syllabus may change.

The art discussed in this class may be related to sexuality and violence, and students will be examining political philosophies, cultural practices, and religious beliefs very different from their own. Students must be prepared to encounter images and ideas they may find offensive.
See the professor immediately if there is no grade on an assignment or test, or if you do not know why you have been asked to re-submit an assignment, or if an assignment has not been returned to you more than a week from the date it was due. Please keep all graded assignments until you have received your final grade for the course.

Late assignments may be handed to the professor or left in her mailbox in the Art Department Office (FA 207). They will lose one full grade for every class session they are late. In extraordinary circumstances, after consultation with the professor, very late papers (more than 5 days) may still receive up to ½ credit.

Finally, please contact the professor if you have any concerns about the course, or any questions about assignments.

A-H 342 change title: Modern American Art and Visual Studies and change description to include 18th-century topics.

Rationale:

The change in title of the course reflects the recent change in Art History Major distribution requirements to include only 3 major time segments. Courses for the Modern category begin in the 18th century.

The change in timespan of the course means that any course subtitle offered under this number will fulfill the Modern distribution requirement. The previous timespan reflected interests of the faculty who traditionally taught it. The new one also allows for faculty other than the person who has traditionally used the course number to choose subtitles form earlier American Art if opportunity should arise.
