* See comment description regarding minor course change. Minor changes are sent directly from dean's office to Senate Council Chair. If Chair deems the change as "not minor," the form will be sent to appropriate academic council for normal processing and contact person is informed. Courses are typically made effective for the semester following approval. No course will be made effective until all approvals are received. Signature of the chair of the cross-listing department is required on the Signature Routing Log. Removing a cross-listing does not drop the other course – it merely unlists the two courses. Generally, undergrad courses are developed such that one semester hour of credit represents 1 hr of classroom meeting per week for a semester, exclusive of any lab meeting. Lab meeting generally represents at least two hours per week for a semester for 1 credit hour. (See SR 5.2.1.)

Rev 8/09
Distance Learning Form

This form must accompany every submission of a new/change course form that requests distance learning delivery. This form may be required when changing a course already approved for DL delivery. All fields are required.

Introduction/Definition: For the purposes of the Commission on Colleges Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accreditation review, distance learning is defined as a formal educational process in which the majority of the instruction (interaction between students and instructors and among students) in a course occurs when students and instructors are not in the same place. Instruction may be synchronous or asynchronous. A distance learning (DL) course may employ correspondence study, or audio, video, or computer technologies.

A number of specific requirements are listed for DL courses. The department proposing the change in delivery method is responsible for ensuring that the requirements below are satisfied at the individual course level. It is the responsibility of the instructor to have read and understood the university-level assurances regarding an equivalent experience for students utilizing DL (available at http://www.uky.edu/USC/New/forms.htm).

Check the method below that best reflects how the majority of course of the course content will be delivered.

- Internet/Web-based ☑
- Interactive Video ☐
- Hybrid ☐

Curriculum and Instruction

1. How does this course provide for timely and appropriate interaction between students and faculty and among students? Does the course syllabus conform to University Senate Syllabus Guidelines, specifically the Distance Learning Considerations?

   Discussion Boards, chat rooms, email

2. How do you ensure that the experience for a DL student is comparable to that of a classroom-based student’s experience? Aspects to explore: textbooks, course goals, assessment of student learning outcomes, etc.

   Same text, assignments, readings, course materials, papers, and exams

3. How is the integrity of student work ensured? Please speak to aspects such as password-protected course portals, proctors for exams at interactive video sites; academic offense policy; etc.

   Password protections, separate student identifiers, alternate forms of the exam given

4. Will offering this course via DL result in at least 25% or at least 50%* (based on total credit hours required for completion) of a degree program being offered via any form of DL, as defined above?

   Yes

   If yes, which percentage, and which program(s)?

   100

   *As a general rule, if approval of a course for DL delivery results in 50% or more of a program being delivered through DL, the effective date of the course’s DL delivery will be six months from the date of approval.

5. How are students taking the course via DL assured of equivalent access to student services, similar to that of a student taking the class in a traditional classroom setting?

   Same test, assignments, readings, exams, papers, course materials,

Library and Learning Resources

6. How do course requirements ensure that students make appropriate use of learning resources?

   We use the facilities of the DL librarian and the UK library

Additional readings will be assigned in an effort to enhance your learning. Be sure to complete the readings prior to viewing the lectures and notes in order to participate more fully in discussions and to build a strong foundation for your knowledge.

General Description of Course:

This course emphasizes acquisition of a basic knowledge and understanding of the origins and development of supported employment, transition, and independent living. The contents of the course provide the student with the following information:
(a) philosophies for transition and supported employment programs;
(b) the concept of Person Centered Planning;
(c) a model for developing a transitional process in the community;
(d) vocational training and placement concepts of transition and supported employment,
(e) various perspectives and roles within supported employment and transition; and
(f) major elements of independent living rehabilitation.

Core Standards

C.2.2 Counseling Services (d & e)
- Environmental and attitudinal barriers to individuals with disabilities; services to a variety of disability populations, including multiple disabilities, in diverse settings.

C. 23 Case Management (b & c)
- Planning for the provision of independent living services and vocational rehabilitation services; identification and use of community resources and services in rehabilitation planning.

Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
1. Identify characteristics of populations served by supported employment, transition, and independent living programs.
2. Distinguish among existing models for supported employment, transition, and independent living.
3. Understand and utilize the philosophies and concepts for supported employment, transition, and independent living.

4. Understand and apply job placement strategies for supported employment and transition programs.

Assignments:

1- Reaction Paper

Your reaction paper should be approximately 4 pages in length and reflect your reasoned response to a class discussion of an important issue or to a key concept presented in our lectures or readings. Reaction papers are not simply summaries of what you have read or discussed, but rather are critical responses to a specific problem or issue addressed in the context of this course. Reaction papers may integrate new readings/experiences into your previous knowledge and experience, explore new insights into a specific problem, or analyze the implications of a specific position or conclusion. Guidelines for completing reaction papers will be available in the “assignments” folder.

2- Case study exploration
You will choose a case study on transition, supported employment or independent living. The case study will include a set of questions to which you will respond. Your case study assignment will be approximately 3-4 total pages.

3- Final Exam

A Final Exam will be given during Week eight. The short answer, essay type exam will be cumulative, covering all materials from weeks one – eight.

There are five graded requirements for this course. The requirements and the percentage of the final grade that each requirement represents are as follows:

NOTE: Our accreditation association and the policy of the Graduate School require that there be different assignments and grading criteria for undergraduate and graduate students in 400 G and 500-level courses. In this course, undergraduate students will not be required to complete the term paper. The course requirements and their percentage of the total grade are presented below:

Other Course-Related Information

Students in Need of Accommodations: Any student in need of accommodations in order to meet the requirements of the course should inform the instructor at the beginning of the course. Additionally, students may obtain information related to classroom accommodations through the university Disability Resource Center (DRC). The DRC certifies the need for, and specifies the particular type of, such accommodations on a student-by-student basis. DRC staff can answer questions and provide guidance and assistance. Visit: www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/DisabilityResourceCenter/ for more information.

Office Hours: Course instructors will be available throughout the semester. Additionally, the instructors are available to speak with you, via email or telephone, concerning class matters throughout the semester. If you send an email, you can expect a response within a maximum of 48 hours, though most responses occur even quicker.

Excused Absences: Completion of all course assignments/activities, including discussion board participation is mandatory. Acceptable reasons for excused absences/late assignments are listed in Student Rights and Responsibilities (5.2.4.2). Acceptance of late assignments is at the discretion of the course instructor. According to university guidelines, students are allowed an excused absence for specified reasons. The burden of proof is on the student; sufficient documentation will be required.
Late Assignments: In order to achieve and maintain sufficient progress in this web-based course it is necessary to complete and submit assignments/class activities by the due date indicated. A due date is provided on the announcement page with regard to each individual assignment. The submission window will close for each respective assignment after the due date indicated. Failure to submit an assignment by the due date will result in a penalty of 5 points (on a 100 point scale) per day and could result in a failing grade for the assignment unless prior arrangements are made with the course instructor.

Student Integrity: Any cheating or plagiarism will be addressed in accordance with University guidelines. Plagiarism or cheating will result in a grade of "E" for the course, and may result in a recommendation for expulsion from the university. Please see section 3.1 of the university Student Rights and Responsibilities for a detailed discussion of student plagiarism/cheating.

Distance Learning Library Services: To get more information on the Distance Learning Library Services, visit: www.uky.edu/Libraries/DLLS or contact Carla Cantagallo 859.257.0500 ext 2171; long-distance 800.828.0439 (email: dllservice@email.uky.edu). Assignments:

1-Discussion Board Participation

Students are expected to participate in the course through contribution in threaded discussion. Your instructors will advise you as to what is expected for full credit. Reasons for losing points in this requirement include lack of participation or consistent participation that is not topical.

2-Weekly Quizzes

Following review of each week's materials, students will complete a quiz consisting of no more than ten questions.

3-Reaction Paper

Your reaction paper should be approximately 4 pages in length and reflect your reasoned response to a class discussion of an important issue or to a key concept presented in our lectures or readings. ### Other Course-Related Information

Students in Need of Accommodations: Any student in need of accommodations in order to meet the requirements of the course should inform the instructor at the beginning of the course. Additionally, students may obtain information related to classroom accommodations through the university Disability Resource Center
(DRC). The DRC certifies the need for, and specifies the particular type of, such accommodations on a student-by-student basis. DRC staff can answer questions and provide guidance and assistance. Visit: www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/DisabilityResourceCenter/ for more information.

Office Hours: Course instructors will be available throughout the semester. Additionally, the instructors are available to speak with you, via email or telephone, concerning class matters throughout the semester. If you send an email, you can expect a response within a maximum of 48 hours, though most responses occur even quicker.

Excused Absences: Completion of all course assignments/activities, including discussion board participation is mandatory. Acceptable reasons for excused absences/late assignments are listed in Student Rights and Responsibilities (5.2.4.2). Acceptance of late assignments is at the discretion of the course instructor. According to university guidelines, students are allowed an excused absence for specified reasons. The burden of proof is on the student; sufficient documentation will be required.

Late Assignments: In order to achieve and maintain sufficient progress in this web-based course it is necessary to complete and submit assignments/class activities by the due date indicated. A due date is provided on the announcement page with regard to each individual assignment. The submission window will close for each respective assignment after the due date indicated. Failure to submit an assignment by the due date will result in a penalty of 5 points (on a 100 point scale) per day and could result in a failing grade for the assignment unless prior arrangements are made with the course instructor.

Student Integrity: Any cheating or plagiarism will be addressed in accordance with University guidelines. Plagiarism or cheating will result in a grade of "E" for the course, and may result in a recommendation for expulsion from the university. Please see section 3.1 of the university Student Rights and Responsibilities for a detailed discussion of student plagiarism/cheating.

On-line classroom behavior, decorum, and civility: The university, and the course instructor and facilitator(s), maintain a commitment to respect the dignity of all students/guests, and to value responsible differences among members of the academic community. Discussion and debate are integral components of academic discovery, and every individual retains the rights to disagree respectfully in the course of that discovery. Students/guests have the right to take reasoned and respectful exception to opinions voiced by the course instructor or facilitator(s), other students, or guests. The expected level of civility in this course will not tolerate attacks of a personal nature or statements denigrating another on the basis of race, sex, religion, sexual orientation, age, national/regional origin or other such personal factors.
